Ulster's Farmers Ship Milk Despite Call for Boycott

Order to Divert Supplies Affects 10 Counties in Upstate Region and Two Distributors

No Benefit Seen

Ulster Dairymen Say Strike for 6½-Cent Difference of Little Value

Peace on the Ulster county "milk front" was reported today as "likely to continue" in the face of a concerted up-state effort to divert milk from distributors who refuse to pay $2.15 a hundredweight.

Ten counties will be represented in the up-state unionized movement to withhold milk from those who in the opinion of leaders of the Dairy Farmers' Union, failed to live up to what was considered a price agreement in settlement of last August's strike.

Archie Wright, chairman of the union, according to the Associated Press today, indicated that the boycott will be directed largely at Sheffield Farms and Dairymen's League. The boycott, Wright said, will be largely localized and will take in a major part of New York state's milksheds.

Further action on the part of Ulster county farmers, who agreed at a meeting in the Accord Community Center Tuesday evening, not to strike at this time, will depend upon how intensified the current price war becomes.

Shipments to Continue
Farmers in the county will be likely to continue shipping milk, a union representative said today, unless some action is found necessary later in sympathy with the upstate farmers, who have decided in favor of the boycott.

Most of the dairymen of Ulster, including members of the Dairy men's League and the unionized group, decided that a boycott, over the 6½ cent difference in price, would not be of especial benefit to the farmers. This stand, it was reported, was influenced mostly by the fact that a differential of 25 cents on the hundredweight has been secured for Rondout Valley dairymen.

Milk will be diverted, Chairman Wright reported, from all the plants who refuse to pay $2.15 a hundredweight for milk, and the leader of the union added that this will mean particularly a war against the "big chiseling distributor."

Vogt Payment Reported
It was reported today that the Vogt Company, which has a plant near New Paltz, has paid the price of $2.15 and is cooperating generally with the area dairymen. Many smaller dealers of the state were also reported in agreement with the producers and it is expected that they will receive milk shipments diverted from distributors, who have cut the price.

Pointing out, however, that such action would not cut the total supply of milk sent to New York city, Wright asserted it was directed primarily at the Dairymen's League and Sheffield Farms, two large distributors he said had incurred "the ill will of producers."

"The diversion program," Wright asserted, "will simply cut down the supply sent to New York city by Sheffield and the League and increase that of independent distributors who have paid the $2.15 agreed price."

The latest milk price controversy broke last week when Erskine M. Harmon, federal milk market administrator, announced a $2.08½ price for September.

The union claimed the $2.15 price was agreed at a conference called by New York's Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia to settle a nine-day, August milk strike that cut New York's daily supply of 4,400,000 gallons.

Where Winnie Ruth Judd Worked Escape Ruse

Attendants at the Arizona State Hospital for the Insane, (above) in Phoenix, turned down the sheets of Winnie Ruth Judd's bed—and found only boxes, bottles and cakes of soap. The trunk murderer of two women had escaped, using this ruse to cause attendants to believe she was still in bed.

Judd Search Now Turns Westward; Call Is Reported

Man Who Says He's Brother of Woman Telephones Cryptic Message to Los Angeles

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 26 (AP)—The escape of Winnie Ruth Judd through an unguarded door of the Arizona Hospital for the Insane prompted a search today from Phoenix to Los Angeles—the exact route over which she shipped the dismembered bodies of two murdered women companions eight years ago.

Y. C. White, governor's investigator who disclosed for the first time today how the escape Tuesday was accomplished, believes, however, that the blond 34-year-old trunk murderer still is in hiding in Phoenix.

Her expressed desire, contained in a letter to Governor Rob Jones, to visit the hospital bedside of her husband and to her attorney.

Puzzling Angle
A puzzling angle to the case was provided by reports from two Los Angeles newspapers that a man identifying himself as Burton J. McKinnell, brother of Mrs. Judd, had telephoned today from Washington, D. C. The newspapers said he asked them to relay this cryptic message to Mrs. Judd's husband and to her attorney.

"In case of slipup in plans are you available? Have copy of trial brief here to be used if necessary. One major blunder has already been made. However, if everything goes well for next 20 hours the probabilities are no court action will be necessary. If you are available, wire."

The Los Angeles Times was asked to relay the message to Dr. William C. Judd and the Examiner sent it to O. V. Wilson, Mrs. Judd's attorney, who formerly lived at Phoenix.

White, executive secretary to Governor Jones, said an all-night investigation revealed that one door of the woman's ward of the hospital leading to the outside was unlocked Tuesday and remained unlocked throughout yesterday.

A girl attendant, whose name was not disclosed, ordinarily slept in a bed against the door, which opened outward. Most of the attendants and patients went to a dance Tuesday night.

"I am convinced now the attendant was not in her bed, or that the bed previously had been pushed away from the door, and that all Winnie Ruth had to do was walk out," White said.

Did Not Attend Dance
Mrs. Judd, slayer of her two best friends, refused to attend the dance and was left unattended. Sheriff's deputies kept their vigil at the home of Mrs. Judd's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell.

Only the aged parents had seen Mrs. Judd since her escape, officials said. When she stepped out of the McKinnell home after a brief midnight visit, weeping and charging persecution because she had not been permitted to visit her bed-ridden father, she vanished completely.

White's investigation turned up this information:
Mrs. Judd escaped between 11:05 p. m. and midnight. She was completely dressed. She wore a grey sport frock; tan hose, and black shoes with Cuban heels. The shoes, stockings and dress had been bought for her by a friend the previous Wednesday out of her savings. (She washed uniforms for nurses at 10 cents each.)

Sloan Says War Not Profitable Business

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of General Motors Corp., declared today that "the belief that war is a profitable enterprise is entirely without any basis of fact."

In a statement to be incorporated in the company's third quarter report, Sloan conceded that "war causes a temporary stimulation of activity."

"But," he added, "irrespective of all the facts and circumstances, all ultimately lose. The destruction or wealth can never, in the last analysis, lead to a better order of things. A lower standard of living must result. Years of readjustment necessarily follow the declaration of peace."

316 Couples Enjoy Golden Wedding Jamboree in Ohio

Cleveland, Oct. 26 (AP)—Three hundred couples who have lived together 50 years or longer got together last night and laughed about divorce.

It was probably as striking a party as anyone ever attended—the gathering of 316 Cleveland golden wedding couples in one hotel ballroom. Some of them had been married 65 years; one couple who observed their 50th wedding anniversary only last week barely got into the novice division.

A few walked with canes; some of the men leaned heavily upon the arms of their younger helpmates. But a lot of them, party caps set jauntily on their white hair, got out on the dance floor and did the square dances they learned in courtship days last century. They sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "The Old Gray Mare Ain't What She Used to Be."

Then they had coffee and cake. A young fellow married only 41 years—Jack Raper, a columnist for the Cleveland Press which sponsored the party—made a speech.

"Yes, sir," he observed, "marriage is quite an institution. It has become universal. Why, in Hollywood, it's a habit."

And the 316 couples wedded 50 years or more set back in their chairs and laughed about divorce.

Capone Is Defendant

Los Angeles, Oct. 26 (AP)—Al Capone was named defendant in an income tax lien for $22,245 today. Internal revenue agents said, however, this would not interfere with the former Chicago gangster's release November 19 from the Terminal Island Jail as it is a civil matter.

RPI Man Rescues YMCA Guest With Difficult Stunt

New York Firemen Praise 'Pendulum Swing' but Engineer Shrugs His Shoulders

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—A one-handed "pendulum rescue," rated as a most difficult feat even for trained firemen, today saved the life of Matthew Creagan, 24, as he hung from the ledge of his burning sixth-floor room at a west side Y. M. C. A.

Veteran fire officials, who said the method was hard to achieve even with two hands, praised the rescuer, John Drislane, 22, of Albany, a husky engineer-salesman employed by the Consolidated Edison Company.

Creagan, honorably discharged from the army 24 hours ago after completing his service at Schofield barracks, Hawaii, awakened about 4 a. m. to find his mattress on fire and flames licking at the door.

An attempt to escape by that exit failed. The door had swelled shut from the heat. Across the 45-foot wide court, Drislane heard Creagan's shouts for help and ran around the hall to an adjoining room. Leaning out the window, he could see Creagan hanging by his hands, five feet away.

The young soldier slowly inched his way toward his rescuer, until Drislane was finally able to grasp his wrist with one hand. Straining to prevent Creagan from slipping and falling to his death on the pavement six stories below, Drislane swung him in pendulum manner in a widening arc until Creagan's free hand touched the window ledge of the adjacent room and he was pulled to safety.

The rescuer, a recent graduate from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y., shrugged aside the praise of firemen.

"I'm sleepy," said he, and forthwith went back to bed.

Youthful Taxi Driver Faces Probable Charge of Murder in Killing of Girl

Edgewater, N. J., Oct. 26 (AP)—Bergen County Prosecutor John Breslin announced today a charge of manslaughter had been placed against William Duncan, 20, a taxi driver, for the fatal shooting of his sweetheart.

Joan Oberle, 19, pretty Englewood High School graduate, died last night on the way to Englewood Hospital with a bullet in her neck. Detective Captain Alexander Flannery quoted Duncan as saying his pistol discharged accidentally as he cleaned it in the girl's room.

Breslin said the complaint was signed by Flannery. Duncan, Breslin said, would be held in jail to await presentation of the case to the grand jury, which will decide whether there was any criminal negligence.

Mayor Cites What Has Been Gained During His Terms

Recalls Streets

Mayor Tells How Things Used to Be When He Lived in Section

Citing the accomplishments of his administration Mayor C. J. Heislman was the principal speaker Wednesday evening at the big Republican rally held in the Fourth ward. Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk told of the steps taken by the city to acquire the municipal auditorium while Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin spoke of the steps taken to acquire the land on which the municipal stadium stands.

City Judge Matthew V. Cahill, making his first appearance in the present political campaign, spoke in both the Fourth and Sixth wards, urging support of all the voters for Mayor Heislman and Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk.

Mayor Heislman in his address said:

Every time I come down to the Fourth Ward, where I lived years ago in Patsy Brophy's house on Hanratty street, I always think of how the streets were in this ward before our administration. Some streets were only narrow, stony or sandy trails. Our snow plows could not get through some places because of the narrow places and jutting outcroppings of rock.

What did our administration do to relieve this condition and improve the service to not only the residents of the Fourth ward, but all other people who came into the Fourth ward?

We prepared plans and estimates, and applied for WPA projects, and we got the projects approved. We have always worked in close cooperation with the WPA. The WPA furnished the labor and some of the material. The city furnished trucks, compressors, gasoline and oil, dynamite, caps, drills and other materials, and the streets of the Fourth ward substantially were graded and widened. Then, along came the forces of the Board of Public Works, and with stone and asphalt, they paved and top-dressed the streets which the WPA men had graded and widened.

Better Than Ever
The result is that today the Fourth ward streets are better than they ever were before. What few streets remain on which no major work has been done will be included in next year's program.

The work that was done in the Fourth ward was done because it was necessary to be done in the interest of the public convenience and safety.

The work done for the benefit of the citizens of the Fourth ward is typical of what has been accomplished in all the wards of the city. Our motto has been, and will continue to be, "The people are served." And the officers and employees of the city are public servants on the job to serve the people, regardless of who they are, what they are and where they are.

Words Fly at Un-American Probe

Committee members exchanged words at the Dies un-American hearing in Washington when Rep. John J. Dempsey (D-N.M.) (top left) assailed release by the committee of a Washington "membership and mailing list" of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-Ill.) (top right) first suggested publication of the list. Previously the committee had accused the league of being dominated by Communists, a charge denied by league officials.

Andrew Smith, (lower left) Bridgeport, Conn., machinist and avowed charter member of the Communist party in this country, told how he turned over most of his life's savings for a transfer to the U. S. S. R., only to find it was not the "heaven" or "Utopia" he had been led to expect.

Amendment Provides No Ships to Use Flag

Early's Rebuke Hits at Wallace

White House Secretary's View Is That Third Term Up to FDR

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—A White House secretary said today Secretary Wallace should have consulted President Roosevelt before advocating his re-election for a third term.

Informed of Wallace's statement in San Francisco and asked for comment, Stephen Early, press secretary, said:

"It would have been kind and polite of the speaker to have consulted the victim before he spoke."

"Is the victim the President?" a reporter asked.

"He's the third term subject of the statement," Early replied.

Told that reaction to Wallace's remarks at the Capitol had been somewhat critical in view of administration requests that politics be adjourned during consideration of neutrality legislation, Early said:

"It could have been timed better if it had to be timed at all."

Wallace said in an interview that Europe's war had made plain the desirability of a third term for Mr. Roosevelt. He added the President's background "seems to equip him with exceptional qualifications as a helmsman to steer the country through both foreign and domestic troubles to a safe harbor."

Early's statement was the first in criticism of third term talk that has come from the White House. Secretary Ickes and other high placed administration spokesmen also have urged a third term, but Wallace's statement was the first to appear since the neutrality controversy began at the special session.

Just before he met reporters, Early had been in the President's study.

The question was broached by a reporter asking:

"Is the war going to make the President run for a third term?"

Early said he assumed the question had reference to an individual who had advocated this in a San Francisco interview. He then made his brief comment.

Senate Inserts New Clause Into Neutrality Bill to Prevent Future World War Acts

Washington, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Senate inserted today a provision designed to prevent ships of foreign nations from sailing under the American flag after it was told that British vessels used that device during the World War to escape German submarine attacks.

This argument was advanced by Senator Tobey (R., N. H.) who disclosed that he had taken the matter up with Secretary Hull. The secretary, he said, advised him that there had been no indications that the British were making similar use of the flag in the present European war.

Tobey, who originally proposed the provision although the Senate acted upon a less severe substitute put forward by Majority Leader Barkley, argued that the use of the flag by foreign vessels would endanger American lives and property.

The flag issue came up as the Senate sped along toward a final vote on the neutrality act tomorrow.

Barkley Objects
Barkley objected to stringent penalty provisions included in the Tobey amendment, and his substitute relaxed the penalties. It was accepted on a voice vote.

Under it any foreign vessel which flew the American flag would be prohibited from entering American territorial waters or ports for a period of three months.

Any vessel which violated this regulation could be seized and its master fined up to $20,000 and imprisoned for not more than two years.

Meanwhile, House leaders apparently reached a tentative agreement to send the Senate version of the neutrality bill to a joint Senate-House conference committee for compromise rather than risk letting the House amend the bill directly.

The Democratic leaders let it be known they hoped to dispose of the neutrality bill finally by the end of next week and adjourn the special session immediately.

At his press conference, House Speaker Bankhead said the final decision on procedure would await Senate completion of the legislation. He predicted the House would complete action within a week.

"I think that will allow for liberal debate," he said.

Steinhardt Gives Demand to Soviet On Basis of Law

No Reply Has Been Made to Request, Hull Says; Cites International Decision

Britain Acts

Parliament Excuses Soviet Share in Partitioning of Poland

(By The Associated Press)
Secretary Hull announced today the American government has demanded of Soviet Russia the return of the City of Flint and her cargo to her American crew.

The demand, Hull said, was presented by Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt, and no reply has yet been received.

The American demand, he said, was based on the United States conception of international law on the subject.

(In Berlin authoritative persons declared that Soviet Russia had agreed to permit the vessel to leave the Russian port of Murmansk in charge of her German prize crew as soon as they considered the vessel seaworthy.)

Based on Verdict
Hull said this country's views of the international law on the matter embraced a United States Supreme Court decision in the case of the British steamer Appam which was sent by the German Raider Moewe in 1916 into Hampton Roads, Virginia, with a German prize crew aboard.

The Supreme Court's decision called for the release of the vessel on the grounds that Germany had no right to send a prize ship into an American port. Mr. Hull said the American position also embraced article 21 of the Hague convention of 1907 which said that a prize ship could put into a neutral harbor only in case of exceptional circumstances such as stress of weather, break down of machinery or lack of provisions.

In such case, Hull said, the ship must be released and depart after the exceptional circumstances have been overcome.

Secretary Hull said the American legal position in the case of the City of Flint had been set forth in several long telegrams to Ambassador Steinhardt.

Soviet Excused
The British government partly excused Russia's share in the partition of Poland today as it was pressed in both houses of Parliament to seek once more Russian friendship for the British-French alliance.

Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax declared that Russia had occupied eastern Poland only after Germany had "started it and set the example" and that the new frontier thereby established was "substantially the boundary" recommended by a British delegate at the time of the Versailles conference.

While Halifax was speaking in the upper House of Commons Chamberlain was declaring in Commons that Britain was ready to cope with Germany's "fight to the finish."

In a note to Britain, Russia refused to agree to the British contraband list on the basis that by banning transport of foodstuffs, fuel and clothing it would "subject children, women and aged people and invalids to every hardship and to starvation."

21 Ships Detained
The state department said 21 American ships had been detained by belligerents since the war started—12 by Britain, six by France and three by Germany.

Production Gains Giant Steel, Iron Mills in Birmingham Beyond World War Level

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 26 (AP)—World War production levels were surpassed by the giant steel and iron mills of this southern industrial capital today as mills reached their capacities.

Flooded by an unprecedented flood of domestic orders which began immediately after the outbreak of European hostilities September 1, heavy industries in this district have added 15,000 employees, upping payrolls more than $1,250,000 per month, competent sources estimated.

Authoritative sources were emphatic in assertions that virtually all the business now pushing southern steel plants is from domestic consumers. They agreed that the European war acted to stimulate domestic buying, chiefly because of the prospect for price increases next year.

Liberal Victory

Quebec Election Is Called Endorsement of War Policy of Canada

Quebec, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Liberal party swept into power in Quebec province today with an election victory acclaimed by Dominion officials as an endorsement of the Canadian government's war policy.

The vote overturned the Union Nationale government of Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis, who had called the election after challenging war expenditures approved by the Ottawa administration.

Duplessis, who carried his own constituency to retain a seat in the provisional legislature, will be succeeded as premier by Adolphe Godbout, who headed the Quebec government for two months in 1936.

Victim of Bullet

MISS JEAN OBERLE

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Oct. 26—Miss Elaine Kniffen will attend the wedding of Miss Irene Porteous and John Daily, Sunday afternoon, October 29, in the Hillsdale Methodist Episcopal Church. She will also attend the reception following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at Hillsdale.

The Southern District committee of the Ulster-Greene Boy Scouts Council met Monday evening at Tamney's Hotel, New Paltz, for dinner and to discuss and make plans for the general county campaign. There were 40 men present with Ray Cunningham, principal of New Paltz Central High School, acting as toastmaster and chairman of the meeting. He introduced the evening speaker, Dr. Keator, president of the Greene and Ulster district. He gave facts concerning Scout activities and the conditions in the county, and announced that the Court of Honor will be held in New Paltz this year.

Mrs. Frank Roosa of Wurts avenue, who broke her hip several weeks ago is now able to walk about the house.

Miss Lillian Hawke and a friend of New York city spent the weekend with her father, Fred Hawke, on Eltinge avenue at the Lowe cottage.

Miss Elizabeth Brown of Ohioville called at the home of Samuel Waring Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester DeGraff have moved to Plutarch.

Otto Schmidt has been entertaining his cousin, Herman Rust, of New Jersey.

Mrs. Harold Wood and Mrs. Tunis Ackerman spent Wednesday in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Albert Wright has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. William DuBois, and family, at Williston Park, L. I.

Mrs. George Cook is employed with the Highland Transfer Company at Highland.

Burton Gerow has been spending a few days with his brother, Charles Gerow.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dusingher of Modena were callers in town Monday afternoon.

Dr. Roland G. Will of the Normal School faculty, was guest speaker at the Parent-Teacher Association in Saugerties Wednesday evening. He talked on "Living and Working Together."

Theodore Woodward made a trip to Modena and that vicinity Saturday.

Miss Kathryn Van Keuren spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Van Keuren, in Ellenville.

The children of the Sunday school of the Ohioville chapel enjoyed a party Saturday afternoon. Awards for the past year were given. That for perfect attendance was given Dorothy Ashton; excellent attendance, Evelyn Ashton; Richard and Harry Sherman, Rufene Smith, Gertrude Terwilliger and William Halliday. The Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Thadden were present and all enjoyed a talk by Mr. Thadden.

Reformed Church Endorses Move to Keep Out of War

The Advisory Council of the Reformed Church in America at their meeting on September 28, in New York city, commissioned the denominational president, the Rev. John A. Dykstra, D.D., to attend to two important matters. The first was to communicate to the nation's president the council's mind relative to the present war situation. Dr. Dykstra has sent to President Roosevelt the following message: "The Advisory Council of the Reformed Church in America unanimously endorses your unswerving determination to keep this country out of war and assures you of the sympathy and the prayers of the Reformed Church in America in this difficult hour. We register our conviction that the sharing of the profits of war is contrary to American and Christian ideals. Recognizing that we must participate in world affairs, we urge a continuing conference of neutral nations to work for peace and a new international order which will provide peaceful means of securing necessary changes in the interest of justice."

The council also approved of Dr. Dykstra's statement relative to the church's position at this time. The statement follows: "In this day of unspeakable frightfulness, we ask, what must the church do? The church must supplicate God. War humbles the church, because it is diametrically opposed to the supreme, Christian law of love. Let us petition God that as a nation we may be spared participation in war and that the conflict may soon end.

"Second, we must re-affirm our faith. In the face of war's challenge to religion, none must lose their faith in God. He is still sovereign. How can there be peace, if men rebel against Him and 'black out' the light of the gospel?

"Third, we must strengthen our fellowship. Christians of all nations are one with us and there is need of a sympathetic understanding of their problems and tensions. We insist that these bonds must be kept. In this melting-pot of the nations the constituency of our church is made up of people coming from international backgrounds — of many whose lineage is in the nations at war. As Americans and Christians our unity is in Christ.

"Fourth, we must carry on our commission. In a time like this there is a danger, if not of declaring a moratorium on missions, and other vital church functions, yet of practicing one. Our church stands for meeting this need. Let us emphasize the stewardship of giving and not less of witnessing.

"Fifth, we must live our Christianity. Let there be in our churches no place for the propaganda of hate. Let love rule every Christian heart.

"Sixth, we must be sensitive to suffering. Can we doubt for a moment that Christ is suffering afresh in this war? If earth's sorrows are felt in Heaven, we, too, must feel them and seek earnestly the ways of ministering to those stricken by war, famine and disease.

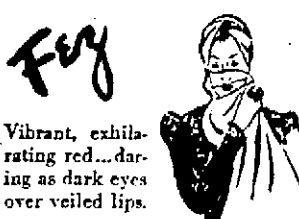

"And we must exalt the Christ. Our high privilege is, to assure men of the final and perfect victory He will have over all evil. We must preach passionately the Gospel of redemption through the cross of Christ. The only solution for the world's ills is in the enthronement of Christ as Lord of all. This is a tremendous challenge to the Christian Church."

Chorus Organizes At YMCA Meeting; Rehearsal Dates

Kingston, following the trend of public recreation in turning more and more to music, organized its community chorus last evening at the YMCA. Twenty young men and women between the ages of 18 and 30 attended the meeting and were organized into the beginnings of the chorus group.

It is hoped by the organizers that from this group will grow a large community chorus, offering another form of recreation, free of charge, to the young men and women of the community. The formation of the community chorus will be discussed later.

Tentative plans were discussed concerning the presentation of concerts, the choice of a conductor and rehearsals. Regular rehearsals were scheduled for Wednesday at 8 p. m. with the next one Wednesday, November 1, at the municipal auditorium.

A committee of six was appointed to assist Sidney Lutzin, supervisor of the department of recreation, in deciding upon the selection of a director. Problems of providing music and plans for social programs will also be referred to this committee of six, members of which are Miss Harriet St. John, Mrs. John Kelly, Miss Caroline McCreery, Jack Wood, Wilson Lester and Harold Canfield.

The organization of the community chorus group to fill the needs of those high school and college graduates who want to sing or play instruments and have no other opportunity to do so, has come as a result of the work of Siebold Frieswyk, music specialist from the National Recreation Association, who has been in Kingston for the past two weeks working in conjunction with the city department of recreation in the formation of a community music program.

Mr. Frieswyk will leave Kingston on Friday for the University of Illinois, where he will conduct a music institute. At the meeting last night he led the group singing at the opening and closing of the session.

Several members of the civic music committee, which was set up last Friday, also were present, including Mrs. Allan Hanstein, Miss Margaret Howe, Paul Zucca and Harry Edson.

Extensive Alterations At Messenger's Market

Extensive alterations have been completed at Messenger's I. G. A. Market at 458 Broadway. The store has been completely altered and redecorated throughout.

The improvements include new shelving, the addition of latest type fruit and vegetable bins, new lighting fixtures. The store has been repainted in white with black trimmings.

As an added advantage to Messenger's customers, new departmental signs have been placed to aid the public in selecting their purchases. The personnel of the store consists of Samuel Messenger, manager, John Amarello, formerly connected with the Governor Clinton market, head of the fruit and vegetable department, Al Messenger, in charge of the butcher department, and Huyler Van Buren.

The $15,000,000,000 in gold now buried in Ft. Knox, Kentucky, and held in treasury vaults, represents 38 per cent of the world's monetary supply of this precious metal.

DEAR READER...

THE TENTH WINTER at "Les Lilas" makes its debut.... No orchids...no photographer from Life....no high, snooty prices on golden wine lists and menus, but prices moderate and sane....No fancy fixtures and extravagant displays of chromium tables and chairs....But....being proud to have won your confidence and approbation, we begin our tenth season in the supreme confidence that our future is assured, and that "Les Lilas" shall continue to be Ulster County's most conservative, Social and Gastronomic Rendez-vous....

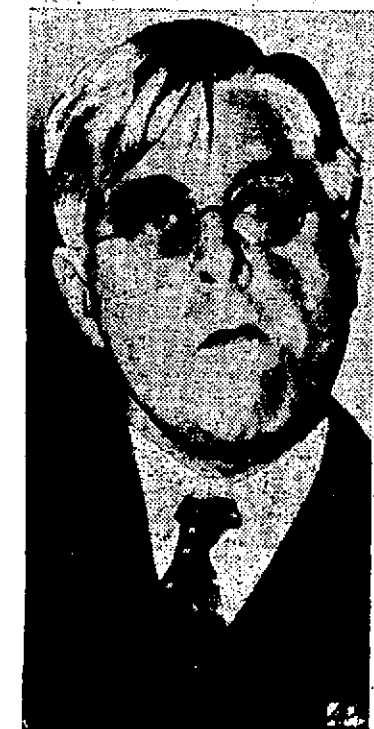

We thank you
Andre Randon,
Maitre d'Hotel

PLEASE NOTE: During the Winter months "Les Lilas" will be closed on Mondays. Our object in closing Mondays is to save staggering our help. Thank you.

Walter Dzielicki, 24, of Lackawanna, injured when an automobile in which he was a passenger turned over and hurtled into a ditch, was "lost" nearly 20 minutes after the accident. After his companion had been hauled from the wreckage, another motorist insisted he had seen a second man in the car as it passed him. Deputy sheriffs and police started a search and found Dzielicki in the underbrush 50 feet from where the wrecked car came to a halt.

Some People Are Getting A Raise

By The AP Feature Service
Map shows the effect of the October 24 minimum-wage increase of from 25 cents on hour to 30. It is based on official estimates. Figures tell the number of workers affected in each group of states. Shadings indicate the percentages of workers affected in each state. These percentages are of the workers in each state covered by the act, which pertains only to workers engaged in interstate commerce. More far-reaching were the effects of the shortening of the work week from 44 hours to 42. Government statisticians estimate 690,000 workers get higher pay. But 2,383,500 got a shorter week.

The changes do not mean all the workers affected will work two hours less a week for five cents more an hour. Some workers have been getting, for instance, 27 cents an hour, and working 43 hours a week. The figures mean that the numbers of workers mentioned get a pay increase bringing them up to the new minimum, and a shortening of working hours bringing them to the new maximum.

HOME BUREAU

Kingston Unit
The Kingston unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau held a membership tea at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hutton on Madison avenue Tuesday, October 24, with 15 present.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Not So Phoney
South Bend, Ind.—The thief who robbed Mrs. Mary A. Luther, 55, of $9 is no judge of jewelry. He started to take her ring, but looked at it closely and decided it was a phoney.

Mrs. Luther told police it is worth $1,500.

Close Call
Beaver, Pa.—The bride-to-be who came to the courthouse with her husband-to-be used her woman's prerogative to change her mind just in the nick of time. They signed their names to a marriage license application, and Clerk Hazel Kennedy asked them to raise their right hands and be sworn. The bride-to-be bolted from the room and disappeared into a crowd.

Tough Guy?
Toledo, Ore.—The official report said Herman Neal, a carpenter, fell from the roof of a two-story building and only scratched his finger. Friends thought he was a pretty tough guy until they learned it was a pre-fabricated house, shipped in sections, and the unplanned roof was only six inches from the ground.

Imperturbable
Salt Lake City—Lawrence Fox, Jr., parked his car on a steep hill and joined the wedding procession. He was best man. The car's brakes slipped, and it shot down the hill, jumped a curb and smashed into a filling station, starting a fire. Fox dashed after the machine, rescued it from the flames and reparked it. Then he straightened his tie and rejoined the wedding march.

More Lincolns
Springfield, Ill.—Two 13-year-old junior Red Cross safety inspectors, Margaret Copp and Billy Horin, found a fire hazard in Abraham Lincoln's home. After inspecting the house, furnished almost exactly as it was in Lincoln's time, Billy announced: "Everything else about the house is all right, but Mr. Lincoln was sure running a risk not having a screen in front of his fireplace."

Olcott M. Brown, in charge of student employment at Hobart College, believes "it is almost impossible today for a boy to work his way through college." The reasons, he declares, are increased academic demands on a boy's time and the scarcity of jobs.

Missionary Will Speak At Church of Comforter

The Rev. Gerrit D. Van Peursum, who has been an evangelistic missionary in Arabia for many years, will speak at the evening service of the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Sunday evening, Mr. Van Peursum has been privileged in the past few years to make journeys into the interior of Arabia to places which, until a few years ago, have been closed to traveler and missionary alike. He has had contact with some of the influential men of Mesopotamia and has had first hand experience with the swiftly moving events in that part of the world. The meeting Sunday evening in the Church of the Comforter is to be in charge of the missionary society. Everyone is invited to attend.

Cornell University's livestock judging team captured first honors at the Eastern States' Exposition at Springfield, Mass. Penn State was second and Massachusetts State third.

Guantanamo Is U. S. Watchdog

Controls Lane That Links
North Atlantic and Caribbean Traffic.

WASHINGTON—A sudden order recently for the American submarine Spearhead, to abandon her South American shakedown cruise and proceed to Guantanamo, Cuba, calls attention to one of Uncle Sam's most strategically located naval bases. It lies on the south coast of Cuba only 75 miles from the island's eastern tip.

"Many tourists familiar with Havana's gay night life and Santiago's long history have heard little of Guantanamo," points out the National Geographic society. "For sightseeing lures in this part of the island are scarce, and civilian visits to the station itself are forbidden except by special permission."

"To the United States navy, however, the Guantanamo base is especially significant. Situated on the south shore of the far eastern end of Cuba, it controls the vital sea lane between Cuba and Haiti which links North Atlantic and Caribbean traffic."

Convenient for Navy.

"In case of emergency, ships of some European countries must travel for days to reach these waters. United States' vessels are not only within easy access of base supplies but also have the advantage of familiarity with the area, due to annual target practice maneuvers thereabouts. Guantanamo is, in fact, a sort of 'winter home' for a considerable part of the U. S. navy that is in the Atlantic."

"Guantanamo bay, the entrance to which is commanded on both sides by the naval station, is one of the best harbors in the West Indies. Extending 1 1/2 miles inland, it is wide enough to shelter the entire American fleet. At the same time its entrance is narrowed by a spit of land which, together with surrounding hills, helps afford protection against both storms and enemy attack."

"Once a retreat for pirates, who used its protective shelter as a hide-out from which to pounce on shipping to the nearby port of Santiago, this harbor was also an English operating base against Spanish Santiago around the middle of the eighteenth century. The British commanding officer at that time was one Admiral Vernon, whose staff included Lawrence Washington, brother of the man who was to become the first President of the United States. Later, Lawrence Washington named his estate on the Potomac 'Mount Vernon.' For his former superior, the name which stuck even after George Washington took over the property.

Isolated From Cuba.

"Guantanamo bay came into American hands after the war of 1898, when U. S. marines were landed there for action against the Spaniards. Settling up camp on a nearby hill, they fought off Spanish siege for several days, until reinforcements finally gave them control of the area."

"In the early 1900s, land on both sides of the bay was leased to the United States by the Cuban government for the purpose of establishing the present naval base. Under the jurisdiction of the American navy department, this base is maintained solely for the use of the fleet."

"When the fleet is in, the normally sleepy little town comes suddenly to life. Then the numerous baseball fields, tennis and handball courts, and bridge paths swarm with sailors and officers. Club houses and cantens buzz with activity and at night the open-air motion picture theater is crowded."

Licenses Revoked And Suspended

Albany, Oct. 25—Carroll E. Mealey, commissioner of motor vehicles, today announced the list of revoked and suspended driving licenses and certificates of automobile registration filed within the two weeks ended October 14. The revocations and suspensions totalled 554, of which 170 cases will require proof of financial responsibility before applications for new licenses will be considered.

There were 99 revocations and 258 suspensions in New York city and vicinity, and 100 revocations and 97 suspensions in the remainder of the state.

In the Albany district, there were 31 revocations and 32 suspensions.

Six drivers of this vicinity were affected by the action of the commissioner. Three licenses were revoked and three suspended.

The Revocations

Luther D. Johnston, Clintondale,

for driving while intoxicated; Lloyd G. Wilson, Harwich street, Kingston, for operating a motor vehicle recklessly and J. W. Donovan, Highland, for operating a motor vehicle in violation of restrictions of junior licenses.

Suspensions

Armin Varnos, Paradise Hotel, Pine Hill, for reckless driving; James Aloysius Byrne, Woodstock, for failure to notify commissioner in writing of change of residence; Arthur Tyler, St. Remy, for improper use of license plates. J. Howard Dew, president of the Sun Oil Company, recently told the Temporary National Economic Committee, headed by Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, that the United States is the only nation in the world sure of instant oil supplies for any military emergency. This country at present produces 62 per cent of the world's petroleum.

- ENGINE crankcase drained—refilled with "double-range" Mobiloil Arctic for quick starts plus full safety... resistance against wear, carbon, sludge.
- CHASSIS safeguarded with Winter Mobilgrease at all these vital points:
 - Starter, water pump
 - Spring saddles
 - Shackles
 - Fittings on universals, wheel bearings
 - Other important fittings
 - Generator
 - Distributor
 - Fan bearing
 - Steering gear
 - Brake cross-members
 - Other important points
- GEARS. Dirty summer gear oil drained—gears protected with Mobiloil "CW" Winter Gear Oil for easy, safe shifting.
- BATTERY. Hydrometer-tested, terminals cleaned, cables inspected. Distilled water added if necessary.
- SPARK PLUGS adjusted to correct gap for winter—inspected for cracked porcelain and broken points.
- AIR CLEANERS serviced on carburetor and crankcase filler cap. Cleaned of dust and dirt. Oiled and replaced.

- DRAINED of scaly summer water—an actual hazard to cooling system in winter.
- FLUSHED with quick-acting, non-caustic Mobil Radiator Flush to dissolve grease and grime in minute radiator passages—to remove summer rust and scale.
- PROTECTED TO ZERO DEGREES with long-lasting Mobil Freezone. Made possible by petroleum, this great anti-freeze resists rust and corrosion as well as freezing—gives you extra safe protection without the risks and unpleasant odor of ordinary denatured alcohol. Because it's long-lasting—won't evaporate readily—Mobil Freezone is the economical anti-freeze for your radiator.
- SPECIAL INSPECTION of entire cooling system makes sure it's ready for hard winter service. Fan belt, water pump, hose, hose connections are carefully checked.

Ladies' Aid to Meet
The ladies of the Rifton M. E. church will meet today at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary Davis with Mrs. Paul Bailey and Miss Ethel Eckert acting as hostesses. Any member who has ticket money to turn in for the recent chicken supper is requested to do so at this meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to all those who are desirous of joining with the Aid and it is hoped some of the younger folks will also attend this meeting.

Friends who helped make their recent chicken dinner a success. The next regular meeting of the Aid will take place on Wednesday evening, November 1, at the home of Mrs. Mary Davis with Mrs. Paul Bailey and Miss Ethel Eckert acting as hostesses. Any member who has ticket money to turn in for the recent chicken supper is requested to do so at this meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to all those who are desirous of joining with the Aid and it is hoped some of the younger folks will also attend this meeting.

Louis St. John, 47, Albany, got the worst of this catfight. Two toms which he owned squared off in the kitchen. St. John stepped in to force a break and lost the decision with two painfully lacerated hands and arms.

Highway users won an outstanding victory in New England at the 1939 sessions of the State Legislatures. They prevented gasoline tax increases in every state. More important, by their cooperation, they demonstrated strength that is expected to protect them against increase of such levies in the future.

VISITED BY DAUGHTER AFTER ESCAPE

The Rev. H. J. McKinnell, aged and ailing father of Winnie Ruth Judd, and his wife are shown in Phoenix, Ariz., where they were visited briefly by their daughter after her escape from Arizona state prison. The father told officers his daughter appeared at the house about midnight, and after a 15-minute visit vanished into the night.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, Oct. 25 — Last Thursday evening Mrs. Harry Masten was given a surprise birthday party by a number of her relatives and friends. Three birthday cakes were among the gifts presented Mrs. Masten. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Newman and Miss Edna Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harris, of Newburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nickerson, of New Paltz, Mrs. Herbert McMillen, Mr. and Mrs. James Conn, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pressler, Miss Malena Quick, Miss Evelyn Bloomer, Miss Harriet Masten, Miss Catherine Lyons, Harry Masten and Jack Boyd. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Masten and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Masten of Newburgh, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shortt and Lyman DuBois of Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lockwood are disposing of their household furniture at private sales this week. Mrs. Lockwood and daughter will visit for a while in Brooklyn and New York with relatives. The women sportswear factory which has been operating in Advance Building on Main street for a short time, is now under new management and new owners. The Buckingham Clothing Company has taken it over and Max Schwartz, the new manager, is in town superintending changes in the plant reorganization. The factory closed two weeks ago. The new owners hope to get under way by November 1. The Arno Company, which established the plant in the village, has had a run of hard luck in various kinds. Repeated trouble with mechanical equipment delayed the filling of orders after the plant was in operation. No sooner would one machine be repaired than something unexpected would happen to another.

Thomas Polizzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Polizzi of Marlborough, and manager of Highland Lane-Sargent Store, has passed a civil service examination for a new position and left on Sunday for Baltimore, Md., where he will be connected with the Social Security Board. Mr. Polizzi is a graduate of the Marlborough High School and the Spencer Business School of Newburgh. He has been connected with the Lane-Sargent firm of New Paltz for two and a half years, and for the past two months has been manager of the Highland store.

At the recent talent show by the local theatre, the following were named first, second and third, respectively: Rocco Campilli and Vincent DeGabbio, both of Cedar Cliff, who gave guitar and accordion selections; Abel Gomes and Jill Gozzo of Newburgh, who danced the Lindy Hop, and John Stallons of Marlborough, who sang. Others who took part were Arthur Fitzgerald, singer of Milton; Genevieve Affuso, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Affuso, who sang.

The girls of the homemaking department class in the Marlborough Central School visited the Fifth Carpet Company Thursday afternoon and watched rugs in the process of being woven.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rall and daughter, Joan, of Long Island, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Catherine Rall and Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Merles of the South road.

Miss Frances Casey of Letchworth Village spent the week-end at the home of her father, John Casey.

Wilhelmina Ruzzi of Catskill is visiting at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Van Allen Salisbury, on Grand street.

Mrs. Albert Barry of Newburgh, who underwent an operation in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, two weeks ago, returned to her home Monday. Mrs. Barry is the former Mabel Benjamin of Marlborough.

Mrs. Winifred Black and daughters will move Saturday from White street, Marlborough, to Kingston, where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown have returned from Canada, where they have spent a vacation.

The Rev. A. Van de Beek Vos and Jack Barry will spend a few days in Maine.

Mrs. Victor Froemel and son, Victor Martin, spent Sunday in New Jersey visiting relatives.

On Sunday Miss Mary Swartz, William Swartz and John P. Martz of Middlehope attended the New York World's Fair.

Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, is a Quaker, by birth and education.

DUMMY AIDED JUDD'S ESCAPE

V. C. White, secretary to the governor of Arizona, is shown in Arizona state hospital for the insane at Phoenix examining the dummy left in bed by the escaping murderess Winnie Ruth Judd. The dummy, made of boxes, bottles and soap, was in bed to fool guards into thinking she was still in bed. The dummy, a 200-pounder, was under sentence to be hanged, if she ever recovers her sanity, for the trunk murders of two women.

U.C.T. Class Day Banquet and Dance

Tonight Kingston Council, No. 356, United Commercial Travelers, holds its annual class day banquet and dance at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The dinner will be at 6 o'clock and following Supreme Conductor Edward S. Morris, toastmaster, will present Fred L. Dillenbeck, grand counselor of the State of New York and Harold C. Smith, supreme counselor of Racine, Wisconsin, who will give the addresses of the evening. The evening will conclude with dancing to music by The Columbians.

Heavy Bill Shows Over August

Oct. 26 (AP)—Heavy bill is about higher than it was on is showing little of Labor Statistics that retail prices in the week which had not varied the preceding week, many small changes in specific items," the report said, "but no definite trend upward or downward in the general level, which is about 10 per cent higher than on August 15."

Aged Cyclist Dies

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 26 (AP)—William C. Bailey, 86, who only last summer pedaled his bicycle 2,600 miles to South Dakota and back, died last night of injuries suffered in a fall from his bicycle. Bailey died a few hours after he was found unconscious on a roadside. He learned to cycle at the age of 79 and had pedaled 20,000 miles since.

St. Peter's Bazaar Opens

Freeman Photo

St. Peter's third annual bazaar opened Tuesday evening at the school hall on Adams street with a large attendance. The hall was gaily colored and many booths of original design were arranged around the spacious hall. The booth in the above picture was constructed by the Sisters of St. Peter's School with the help of the school children. The color combination is green and white. The bazaar will remain open the remainder of the week.

KERHONKSON

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Proper entertained a few days Principal and Mrs. Dunham of Kinderhook. Dr. Frank. Holenberg of Sag Harbor, L. I., was a guest of his brother-in-law, A. J. Anderson, and wife, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ransom were Kingston visitors Saturday. The Rev. Chester Grossman officiated at the funeral recently of Miss Ella Churchwell of Yonkers. Miss Churchwell was a sister of the Rev. Warren Churchwell, former pastor of the Methodist Church here a few years ago.

Mrs. William Myers of Long Island spent a few days with her brothers, Selah and Harry Terwilliger, and families.

Homer Wynkoop entered the Windsor Sanitarium, Kingston, on Monday for observation.

Miss Thelma Churchwell entertained Miss Marjorie Lane at dinner on October 19 in honor of her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stokes entertained last week their nephew and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ostrander and son, of Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy have as their guest Mrs. Murphy's nephew from New Jersey.

A few friends gave Mr. and Mrs. William Browley a surprise party at their home in Granite on Tuesday evening.

Refuse Heaps Tell Story

Refuse heaps of yesterday are treasure troves of today in the eyes of archeologists. Crude objects of the Stone age, and weapons, utensils, ornaments, patiently wrought by hand, are means by which science interprets the story of the past. One of the most famous of such middens, or trash piles, is a prehistoric shell heap at Jones cove, a part of Frenchman bay, which washes the sheer granite cliffs of Acadia National park, Maine. Shore dinners over many decades went into the accumulation of this mammoth heap of clam shells. To any who possess the key, the shell heaps are veritable museums of ancient history.

Andrea Leeds Weds

San Francisco, Oct. 26 (AP)—Film Actress Andrea Leeds and Robert Howard, her wealthy San Francisco bridegroom, sail for Hawaii today on their honeymoon. The 26-year-old actress and Howard were married yesterday in mass-covered St. John's chapel at Del Monte before a smartly-dressed crowd of social and film personages. Miss Leeds is the daughter of Charles Leeds, Los Angeles mining engineer, and Mrs. Leeds. The actress' real name is Antoinette Leeds. Howard, 23, is the son of Charles S. Howard, wealthy San Francisco automobile distributor and sportsman, and Mrs. Edmond F. Herrscher.

The voters of Maine on September 11, rejected by a vote of 21,265 to 16,500 a proposed bond issue of $8,000,000 to pay for a five year highway and bridge construction program.

THEY SAY....

THEY SAY . . . A recent survey completed by the Personal Finance Company in an endeavor to better serve the needs of people who need cash to meet their obligations, brought some surprising results—RESULTS THAT VITALLY INTEREST YOU!

"They Say" that many persons will not borrow needed cash because of fear—fear that their privacy will be invaded—fear of offending friends by a "supposed" necessity of endorsement—fear of official "red tape"—fear of embarrassing questions—fear of wage assignments—and fear of the so-called "loan shark" who demands excessive rates on money loaned.

The occasion of our 6th Anniversary in Kingston is an opportunity for us to banish these "fears" which were so clearly shown to us through the "They Say" medium.

HERE ARE THE FACTS—YOU BE THE JUDGE!

Personal Finance service eliminates embarrassing questions by allowing the customer to fill out his own application; privacy of the individual's home and business is guarded by strict confidence and friendly office conference; endorsements or co-makers are definitely taboo and fear of offense to friends is ungrounded; there are absolutely no wage or salary assignments in Personal's service; and the "loan shark" idea becomes a myth because of state laws which prohibit excessive interest rates!

In the service offered by the Personal Finance Company to residents of Ulster, Greene and Sullivan counties, there is a sincere friendliness and a desire to be of aid to those in financial difficulty. Our clients receive personal consideration and have access to a number of supplementary services such as our free check cashing and notary public services; the right to consultation on unemployment insurance and social security—without cost; and the opportunity of using our ALL-PURPOSE CREDIT CARDS, developed for traveling emergencies when away from home!

FINANCE COMPANY

ON OUR
6th

BORROWS MONEY
SOMETIME
SOMEWHERE

Lots of very fine people think they don't believe in borrowing. Yet, a bank borrows money from storekeepers—but they call it a deposit. People borrow money from storekeepers—but they call it a charge account, or buying on time. Industries borrow funds to erect factories, buy machinery, purchase raw materials, pay for labor—but they call it selling stocks and bonds, or getting the bankers to finance them. And what is an aid in trade and commerce must be equally helpful in personal affairs.

Personal financing is not making a "touch." It is settling your debts—it is buying what you need—it is getting the proper things of life—all these, and paying for them out of future earnings.

And by setting aside as little as $1.32 a week on the average, you can completely repay a $100 loan including all charges on our new 20 month plan.

A ONE VISIT LOAN FROM PERSONAL is simple as ABC—and is yours for the asking! Read the features of Personal's Loan Service and then drop in our office and let's talk it over—or you can telephone 3470 and our representative will call.

Only Requirement—Ability to make small monthly payments.

Loan Service Features

- NO DEDUCTIONS You get the full amount of your loan; absolutely no deductions.
- PRIVACY No one will be notified when you borrow; all in strict confidence.
- SPEED You can get cash when you need it; no unnecessary waiting.
- NO EXTRA CHARGES No charges or special fees of any kind; a feature of Personal's service.
- NO BANK COLLATERAL Loans are made to any employed person with ability to make small payments.
- 20 MONTHS TO REPAY Small monthly payments are arranged to suit individual needs.
- NO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS No salary or wage assignments, and no endorsements or co-makers required.

We're glad to lend where a loan will help.

The Creeping Man

by Frances Shelley Wees

YESTERDAY: Mrs. Murchison has received a letter in her husband's handwriting, from Chicago, dated six weeks after his disappearance, saying that he is never going to return.

Chapter 17

Somewhere in Between

MICHAEL spoke suddenly. "Let's forget all this conjecturing, and guessing. Let's get what we know organized—down on paper. Then we've got something to work on. I'm getting fed up with fiddling about."

"Motives?" queried his father. "Where are you going to start?" Bunny wanted to know. "Whose motives? The diamond hunters, if any, the murderers, if any, or what have you?"

"The Professor," Michael said. "If any, of course."

"It's like 'button button, who's got the button?'" Tuck murmured. Michael threw her a cold glance. "Levity from here on out," he said decisively. "Now we start. This thing probably isn't much of a mystery at all. There's no use keeping on with all this suspicion if we're barking up the wrong tree, if there isn't any tree. Supposing we start at the beginning, and think about Murchison himself. He's gone. This letter apparently clears up the question of his whereabouts, but we'll forget about that letter. Why did he go?"

The District Attorney tapped his pipe thoughtfully. He glanced up at his son, but said nothing. "First," Michael went on, "his wife says he probably went off to some remote laboratory to conduct some obscure experiment."

"What experiment?" Bunny demanded. "Why couldn't he conduct it here?"

"That doesn't really bother me," said Michael. "The question is, what lab? As far as I'm concerned, that last possibility is out."

"There are labs in Chicago," Tuck said tentatively.

Michael frowned. "I suppose I may as well own up," he said, "I do not believe in that letter for a moment. In the first place, it was worded too vaguely. He merely said, in two sentences, that he was not returning to her, and perhaps she would understand. He didn't say where he was going or what he was going to do. He told her to forget him."

"And does she understand?" "She says she doesn't. Although I smell a herring there, too. A very bright red herring. But the real question in my mind is—why did he wait for six weeks to mail that letter? Can you answer me that?"

The District Attorney nodded to himself. Michael answered his own question, looking down into the interested eyes turned to his face.

"Because," he said, "he didn't." "Didn't wait six weeks?" "Didn't mail that letter."

"What do you mean, Michael? It was in his own handwriting."

"Yes, but—when did he write it? Before he went, or just before he mailed it?"

"You think he might have left that note for her? That she had it all the time . . . and then . . . Tuck's mind was following out the steps. Her eyes shone."

"Yes, And has the lady any friends in Chicago? Suddenly, you see, she feels that she has to explain the Professor's absence. Things are getting unpleasant—or she wants the police out. Perhaps getting them in was only a gesture. So she gets the bright idea of dating this letter—the date was printed, by the way, and the expert is almost ready to swear it's Murchison's hand but not quite—dating it, sending it to some friend in Chicago with instructions to mail it back to her. Simple. The Professor's absence quite satisfactorily explained, and the police called off."

Three Reasons

"AND what precipitated this bit of finesse, Michael?" the District Attorney wanted to know. Michael shrugged his shoulders. "Perhaps she really heard from the Professor and he gave her the devil for starting this search." He avoided his father's eyes.

"Of perhaps she discovered that the diamonds were really here in the house, and she wanted to get them," Tuck said.

"And more likely," Bunny added, "she began to think the police were finding out too much. The key question in my mind is, of course, what happened to the Professor? Where does he give her the devil for? How did he get there? I think you're guessing there, Michael."

"Well, perhaps. Next, then; supposing the letter is authentic. He may have gone off with a lady friend."

"We've talked about that," Tuck objected. "It's no use going over it again."

"Not any. Very well, then. There's something we haven't discussed. They say there are usually three reasons for a man's disappearing. Loss of memory, which we don't seem to be dealing with. A lady friend, which we can't substantiate as yet, and fear of punishment for some crime the disappearing person has committed."

"What crime?" "As yet, none. So there's no use talking about that, although we'll keep it in mind."

Bunny drew a deep breath and settled into her chair. "You're still talking about voluntary disappearance, Michael," she said quietly. "You've broken the ice. Now go on to what's more likely."

"Oh well," said Michael lightly, "if you must have it," and dropped down into the big chair by the desk. "Murder," he said.

Tuck moved restlessly in her chair. Michael glanced at her, and went on. "Robbery, jealousy, hate," he said. "Three possible motives. Everything comes under those three heads."

"Robbery, the diamonds," Bunny murmured.

"Yes. And that will take in the largest circle of suspects. From Murchison down to Higgins and beyond. An unknown thief could have murdered him for the diamonds."

"Scarcely," the District Attorney said with a twinkle. "You can't go too far, Michael. You'd have a lot of little fine threads to pick up if you start talking so."

"No unknowns. Well, then . . . Higgins is the most likely suspect."

"Piffle," said Bunny. "Not alone, Michael. He hasn't the brains."

"No. Well, to go on. Jealousy." "The lady's husband," murmured Tuck.

"Yes. But first we'll have to find the lady. So far there doesn't seem to be any."

The District Attorney sat forward suddenly in his chair, and gazed intently into the fire. Bunny was watching him. She frowned to herself. Michael was watching her.

"There is, of course," he said slowly, "another possibility there. Mrs. Murchison is a most attractive woman."

Gray Box

BUNNY shut her eyes. Tuck stared at Michael. "You mean . . . she began."

He shook his head at her. "Anybody might be in love with Mrs. Murchison," he told her. "They were still fixed on his. He glanced at Bunny."

"Of course," Tuck said quietly. "A perfect stranger might. Someone we haven't heard of at all."

"Someone who lives in Chicago," muttered the District Attorney.

"And the last point," Michael went on hastily. "Hate."

His father turned and looked at him. "Where do you put revenge, my lad?" he asked. "It's a funny, queer, fermenting thing. It grows often on unlikely soil."

"Hate takes in all that," Michael decided. "All types of enmity and revenge. It gives us a wide coverage."

"I don't believe he was the sort of man one hates," Tuck said swiftly. "I think his brother is a perfect dandy. So there!"

"If wish," said Bunny slowly. "I wish we could find the diamonds."

"Oh, as for that," said Michael loftily. "It's very simple. I know where they are."

Three astonished faces turned toward him. Two mouths fell open. One pair of shaggy brows bent over keen gray eyes.

"Michael!" "With elaborate leisure he got up from his chair, and turned around. On the floor, at his feet was the grating of the cold-air register."

"Of course," he said, "I may be mistaken. But I don't think so. Certainly they're somewhere in this room, if there are any. And this is a fairly new house—no secret passages or sliding panels in it. So—"

"The pipe!" Tuck cried, coming to stand beside him. "The cold-air pipe!"

They were all beside him now, peering down through the grating. Michael knelt. He had the paper-knife from the desk in his hand. He applied it to the screws on each side of the grating, and after a few seconds of breathless silence lifted the grating out, and laid it beside him.

The pipe just below the grating formed a square and ran along under the floor. Joining with it at the back was the pipe that came straight down from the dressing room above. At the junction of the two, on a little shelf formed of a bent sheet of gray tin, stood a box; and hanging over the top of it were Tuck's rosy corals.

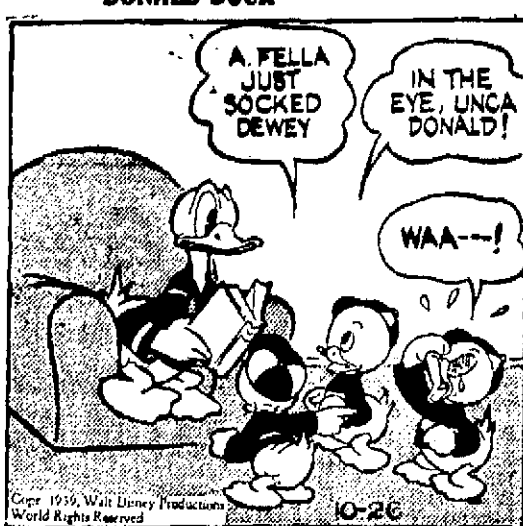

"So, it was my idea, you young scallawag," his father said. "Your idea, my clever patent. Somewhere in between, you said. It bothered me. I thought about it. They are."

He lifted out the corals and handed them to Tuck. Then he leaned forward and picked up the gray box.

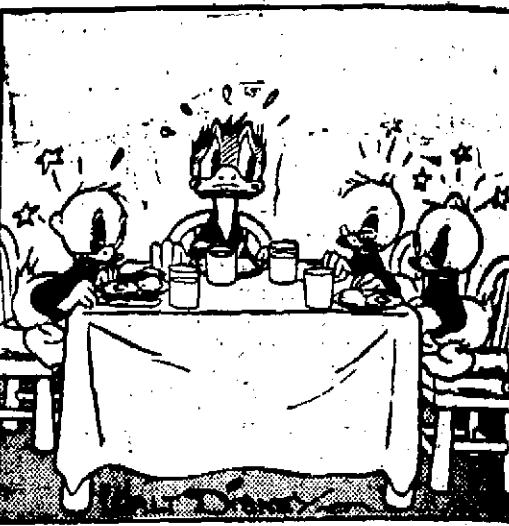

It too, was made of tin, like the pipe. It was perhaps six inches long, by three wide, and three deep, and the lid was covered with thick dust and fastened down by a hump and tiny padlock.

L'I' ABNER

Better Hearing Service, Topic at Rotary Luncheon

Abuses connected with a person's hearing and the horrible cacophony of modern life were explained by John J. Way, Western Electric scientific instrument specialist from New York city, who is associated with the Bell System, at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club held Wednesday noon at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The discussion was one of unusual interest and was greatly appreciated by the members and visitors who included Rotarian Walter J. Fife of Mechanicville, N. Y., and Earl N. Hill and William Hardenbergh.

Dr. Charles Carter, program chairman, introduced the speaker who opened his remarks about the effect of noise on human health and efficiency.

In the olden days, he asserted, people had only to contend with the barking of dogs, the ringing of bells, hoof beats, squeaking shoes and snoring. Today there are the screaming sirens, the blaring automobiles, backfires, screeching brakes, factory whistles, etc.

Scientists have produced case histories to show that during the World War men were actually killed by noise alone. The shock of sound waves coming from high explosives and the discharge of large guns so affected the brain that it produced death. The mere pealing of church bells killed a man when he was imprisoned in a church belfry.

Digestion is also affected by noise. Noises slightly louder than human voice interfere with the secretion of saliva and depress the contraction of the human stomach. Noises louder than ordinary conversation retard the secretion of the stomach juices.

The speaker pointed out that many schools are acoustically imperfect as well as churches and auditoriums. Especially in the schools, he said, noise reduction is as important as ventilation and illumination. Engineers have been told by school authorities that because of limited budgets they were unable to have the proper acoustics in the class rooms, but they had large expensive bronze doors on the building for decorative purposes. He further stated there was no more excuse for having improper acoustics today than there is for improper lighting or ventilation. Engineers can plan for this before a building is started.

In buildings where acoustics are below normal they prevent satisfactory use. In many places public address systems, which magnify the speakers' voices, have been installed and help to an extent.

There are 10,000,000 people today who because of poor hearing are unable to go about their normal functions. These people are relieved to an extent through many new scientific devices.

School children are given an opportunity to have complete audiometric hearing tests.

Following his interesting and constructive address, Mr. Way conducted Audiophone tests for the Rotarians, giving them an opportunity of learning what has been accomplished in the interest of better hearing by the makers of Bell telephones.

New Cake Recipe

Heavenly Devil's Food Should Be A Real Treat

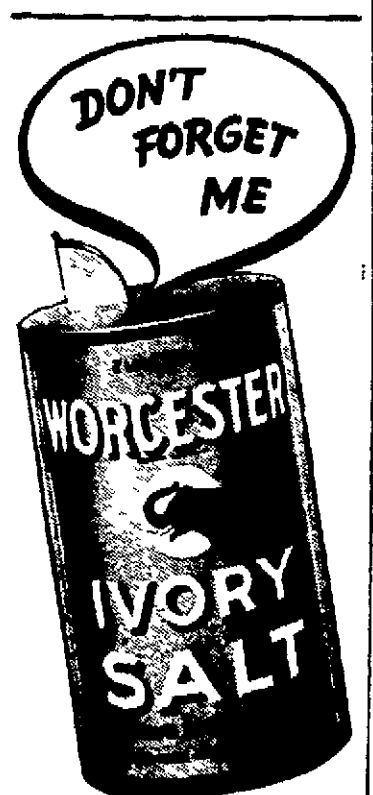

Nothing gives quite so much comfort as knowing—when folks drop in unexpectedly—that you have a fresh, delicious cake or tempting cookies ready to serve. Here is a recipe for "Heavenly Devil's Food" that you will want to try. Imitation maple flavor gives them an unusual delicious quality, blended with spice, fruit and chocolate flavors.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups sugar, 3 egg yolks, 3 cups flour, $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons baking powder, $1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons salt, 1 cup sour milk, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup boiling water, 3 squares chocolate, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons soda, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon Mapleine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 egg whites.

Kerhonkson Halloween

The members of the Kerhonkson Fire Department plan a Halloween masquerade party for Saturday night this week, with prizes for the best costumes. Zucca's orchestra, under direction of J. Paul Purcell, will furnish the music for old-fashioned and modern dancing and will be assisted by an expert in the old-time dances, who will "call off" in the best accepted manner.

More than 100 different kinds of steel are utilized in manufacture of an automobile.

DOLLS ENLIST, TOO—Here's a tip for very young dressmakers, who want to give their dolls the sort of outfits worn by British dolls, now getting ready for Christmas. One doll's a Red Cross nurse, the other's in military service.

WHAT'S THE ENGLISH FOR WHOO-EEE-WHOO-EEE?—Britain's women farm workers even feed the pigs during their month of training in the women's land army.

GUESS WHO?—With a pocket comb Patricia "Honey-chile" Wilder, actress from Macon, Ga., mimicked a certain dictator she met while abroad. She's now on way to Hollywood.

DOG CHANGES ALLEGIANCE—When Germany's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, quit England he left behind this Chow dog which has become a mascot of the Heston branch, British legion, according to information passed by the British censor. The dog was first adopted by a German embassy footman who enlisted, turning Chow over to his father (above).

SOUND EFFECTS—If this picture were wired for sound you'd hear Danish-born Lauritz Melchior, 49, Metropolitan opera's dramatic tenor, rehearsing for winter season.

GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT—They've got the "dough" but only for baking, which explains why these two boys are learning to become bakers, at New York's Food Trades Vocational school. The school equips lads for future employment.

WATCH THE BIRDIE!—This picture-taking business must be a snap, conclude two rare crested cockatoos from Australia, brought to Los Angeles for an appearance at the 14th annual Great Western Livestock show Oct. 28-Nov. 3.

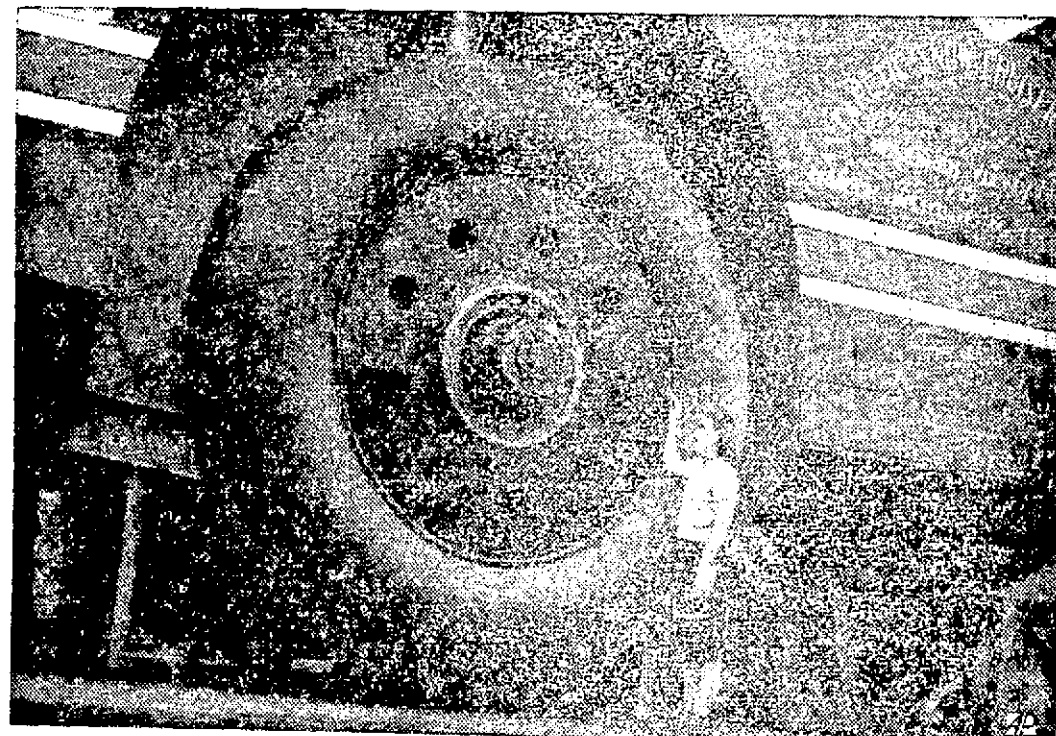

'DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM'—History's pages were turned back when above reconstructed flour mill, built on the foundations of a mill that stood on the Lee family estate near Stratford, Va., was dedicated by the Robert E. Lee Memorial foundation. The original mill was built in 1740. This building was made possible by Jesse H. Metcalf, former Rhode Island senator.

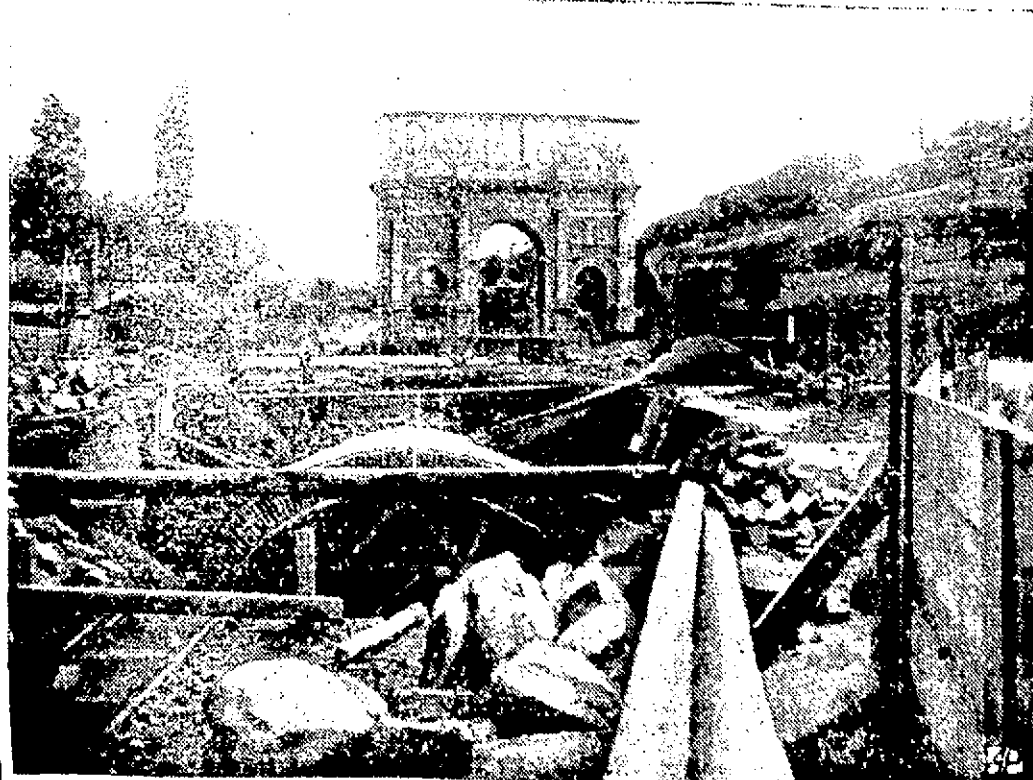

CALL TO ARMS—Corp. R. L. Rice of the 2nd Cavalry Dragons, Fort Riley, Kas., had reason to blow hard at the Kansas City livestock show. He may have had in mind the two-week furlough promised dragons for each new recruit.

BRIEF JOB—Harold Jacobs, who was acting administrator of the wage-hour act for a few days only, is shown in Washington. He held title until Lieut. Col. Philip Fleming assumed job, succeeding Elmer Andrews, resigned.

IMAGINE A BLOWOUT FOR THIS—Little Dorothy Bennett, 13, is dwarfed by 10-foot-high tire on the snow cruiser being built in Chicago for use on the Byrd Antarctic expedition.

SUBWAY BURROWS INTO HALLOWED GROUND—For visitors to Rome's 1942 Exposition, Italo-Italians are building subway where marched victorious 4th century legions.

COLD STORAGE FOR MATANUSKA—Out of a six-inch snow that fell early in October damaging vegetables and grains in the Matanuska valley, Alaska, the Rev. and Mrs. B. J. Bingle dig their cabbages. Many of the buried vegetables were saved by snow preceding the cold spell. The Rev. Mr. Bingle is pastor of the Protestant church at Palmer, capital of the government's colony.

NO DROUGHT HERE—An early snow covering unharvested crops was big news in Palmer, Alaska, where Mrs. Ivan Wilson (foreground) runs a newspaper for the Matanuska colonists. She and her father-in-law are digging up cabbages.

BRITISH MINESWEEPERS AT PERILOUS TASK

Somewhere off the British coast this flotilla of English minesweepers labors at its task of keeping the sea lanes open for cargoes needed by England in wartime. The black-ball signals atop the foremost of the nearest vessel indicate actual sweeping for explosive charges is under way. (Picture by radio from London).

440 Boys, Girls Will Make Trip As Legion Guests

Saturday will be a red letter day in the lives of 440 boys and girls who have registered for the trip to West Point Military Academy that day under the auspices of Kingston Post of the American Legion.

Commander John Melville said this morning that 66 persons had donated the use of their automobiles to convey the children and that at least 12 additional cars were needed. Senator Wicks had donated the use of a bus and John Von Gonsic had also donated the use of a bus for the trip to and from West Point.

Each boy and girl is expected to report Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the Legion building on West O'Reilly street, bringing their own lunch with them.

Commander Melville has received word from Captain Fox of the state troopers to the effect that the troopers will furnish an escort for the trip.

EVERYBODY'S TALKING B.P.R!

IT'S THE FAMOUS MARYLAND RYE THAT'S MADE WITH 98% RYE GRAIN

MOST RYE WHISKIES USE ONLY 51% RYE GRAIN... THAT'S ALL THE LAW REQUIRES

WHAT'S 98% RYE GRAIN MEAN IN B.P.R.?

IT MEANS THERE'S MORE RYE IN THE WHISKY... YOU NEED LESS WHISKY IN A HIGHBALL

IT MEANS THE FLAVOR ALWAYS COMES THROUGH... YOU NEVER GET A "THIN" DRINK

WHY HAVEN'T I HEARD OF B.P.R. BEFORE?

THERE'S ONLY BEEN A LITTLE AROUND DISTILLERS, RECTIFIERS AND BLENDERS WANTED TO ADD ITS REAL RYE-RYE FLAVOR TO THEIR OWN STOCKS, THEY BOUGHT UP ALL THEY COULD!

WHERE'S B.P.R. MADE?

B.P.R. IS MADE IN MARYLAND... IN THE LARGEST INDEPENDENT RYE DISTILLERY IN AMERICA

Prosecution Draws Denial To Judge Martin's Version

Navy Day in U. S. To Be Observed

Friday is Navy Day throughout the United States. This year, owing to the fact that the Navy is busy doing patrol duty in the neutral zone, and no ships are available to be sent to Kingston and other cities, the observance of the day will be curtailed.

Navy Day is held on October 27, every year as this is the birthday of former President Theodore Roosevelt, who is regarded as the father of the modern American Navy, combined with the fact that it was in October, 1775, that Congress first authorized the Navy Department.

Throughout the day and evening on Friday the broadcasting stations will have radio programs in commemoration of the day, which will mark the 15th observance.

Chief Sigismund William W. Simpson of the U. S. Navy, who has charge of the recruiting office in the central postoffice building, which is open every Thursday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., called attention to the fact that since he has had charge of the office there have been 81 youths who have been recruited and accepted for navy duty out of 669 applicants. The others had been rejected for various reasons.

Of the 81 applicants who had been accepted two were in the Naval Academy; two have been selected for the Academy; five are graduates of Navy Trade Schools; one is a member of the Navy Band, while the others are taking up various trades aboard the Navy ships.

The latest youth to enlist for service is Marcus H. Moore of Route 1, Kingston.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP)—The prosecution, through bank records and testimony of two witnesses, drew a flat contradiction today to Judge George W. Martin's version of a property purchase by which it seeks to prove "deceptive dealings."

Three defense witnesses, including the 63-year-old oyster proceedings defendant, have testified that the $3,000 down payment on the Martin family's Bainbridge avenue home, Brooklyn, was paid in cash in 1930. Martin has said he had no bank account the past 10 years.

The property records show, was purchased in the name of Mrs. Martin, wife of the judge.

Assistant Attorney General John Harlan Amen, however, brought from two bank employees, Walter McFadden of the Kings County Trust Company and Marvin Thralls, Brooklyn National Bank cashier, and Louis Beer, former owner of the property, that the $3,000 was paid in a series of checks drawn on a Brooklyn National Bank by a "George W. Martin," "G. W. Martin."

Questioning the former owner of the home, Amen asked:

"No cash of Mrs. Martin's was ever given to you?"

"None," Beer replied.

Under cross-examination by Chief Defense Counsel Martin W. Littleton, Beer said he could not "possibly say" whether one of the checks was a cashier's check or one made by the judge.

Judge Martin, his wife and John P. Carroll, Martin's confidential secretary, previously testified the property purchase was consummated in cash.

Carroll told the Senate he took "full responsibility" for allegedly deceptive methods the prosecution claims Martin used in paying numerous creditors.

Sells Oil Output

Mexico City, Oct. 26 (AP)—The government controlled oil administration announced today it had sold in the world market the output at least until August, 1940, of the Pozo Rica field, the country's principal producing area. The announcement did not specify quantities or the buyers.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Selective buying kept the stock market on an even keel today, with the general tendency narrowly mixed.

For a while there was considerable activity and many leaders pushed ahead a little. This died away and near the final hour minus and plus signs were about equally divided.

Transfers were at the rate of about 1,500,000 shares. Steels and rails, favorites in yesterday's runup, succumbed to some profit taking and were droopy most of the time. No other group seemed ready for the leadership although selected issues were able to advance on small spurts.

At London and Amsterdam prices were firm, tending to dip a little in the latter city around the close. Bonds were uneven and important commodities were mixed.

Displaying some strength most of the time were General Motors, which slipped through to touch a new 1939 high, Chrysler, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Brooklyn Union Gas, Johns-Manville, du Pont, Celanese and National Dairy.

Backward was U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Sperry, International Harvester, U. S. Gypsum, Eastman Kodak and Phelps Dodge.

In the curb there were mark-ups for Duke Power, Bliss & Laughlin, and Pepperell.

Curio Display in Bernstein Window

The Bernstein Co. is devoting one of its display windows on North Front street, this week, to a number of articles of general interest of a non-commercial nature.

One of the displays is the quilt made by the members of the Home League of the local Salvation Army and which was awarded second prize at the Hudson river divisional quilt contest held at Yonkers on September 28. The contest between the Kingston and Newburgh units for first place is said to have been practically a tie. Newburgh finally being awarded first.

Another display is a collection of 96 brass buttons. These are English military buttons and are from the collection of Sam Bernstein.

Also shown is a collection of souvenirs picked up on foreign battlefields. It includes a wide variety of articles, among them being coins, ornaments, spoons, cartridges and the like. There is also an exhibit of stamps.

Bank Teller's Wife—Have you seen the grocer's bill, dear? Bank Teller—Yes, I sent it back marked "insufficient funds."

General Advance Staged by Stocks

Stocks staged a general advance Wednesday, with volume on the New York Exchange at 1,690,000, best for the month with one exception, which also was true in respect to gains in averages. Industrials as measured in the Dow Jones averages closed at the best level of the day, showing a net gain of 1.41 points, to 155.48, not far from the peak of the year, which was 155.92 on September 12.

Industrial issues featured largely in the list of 50 stocks which made new highs for the year. Rails participated in the advance, to a lesser degree, being up .56 point, to 35.13. Utilities continued their slow rise, gaining .11 point, to 26.26. Heaviest trading yesterday was in the final hour and as the market closed the tape was running behind.

The bond market was higher, with speculative types attracting attention. In the foreign issues Australian, Danish and Norwegian bonds were particularly buoyant. Finland 6s gained more than six points, but Rumania 7s went into new low ground.

Commodities turned upward in broader buying, the Dow-Jones index gaining .58 point for the day. A general buying movement in cotton brought advances of seven to nine points. Wheat was up 7-8 cent a bushel in Chicago.

Action of markets here followed strength on foreign exchanges. Prices staged a broad rise on the Amsterdam Bourse, domestic issues showing gains of two to seven points; most American issues showed gains. Most sections of the London market continued firm in the absence of unfavorable news and London Finance Times averages showed gains.

Paris Bourse was firm with a steady flow of buying orders.

The price of Kraft wrapping paper was again raised $5 a ton, to $80. This represents an advance of nearly $21 from the low price of midsummer.

On the basis of reports from 38 major railroads, net income of the roads for September is seen as well ahead of a year ago. Report of consolidated shows operating net for September of $5,377,642, which compares with net of $6,525,123 in the 1938 month. Chicago & Northwestern shows $1,996,664, best since October, 1930, and compared with $807,336 last year.

Commercial Solvents net of $911,620 for nine months ended September 30, shows sharp rise in income over a year ago, when for the same period there was net loss of $218,144.

Westinghouse Electric business is at the best level, except for a short lull in 1937, since the depression. Orders booked during the first nine months totaled $153,976,777 against $113,170,228 in the first nine months of 1938.

Creditors of Majestic Radio are asking for a receivership. For the fiscal year ended May 31 the company showed a net loss of $253,000. An order, allowing the present management to continue the business for the present, specified that the salary of the president be reduced from $30,000 a year to $12,000 a month.

Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King said it was "impossible to exaggerate the significance" of the election which he said showed Quebec was united with the rest of Canada in determination to fight beside Britain and France.

The war in Europe played a leading part in a Canadian election campaign which swept the Liberal party into power in Quebec and overturned the government of Premier Maurice Duplessis, who had challenged war expenditures of the Ottawa government.

Rift Separates Jolson and Wife

Hollywood, Oct. 26 (AP)—The love song of Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler is ended, but for Al the melody lingers on.

Singer Jolson sadly confirmed today reports that Miss Keeler had left him and would sue for divorce. They celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary with an elaborate night club party last September 21.

Jolson said that just before Ruby left he told her: "I hope everything will work out all right. I hope you'll come back right away."

"Maybe," she replied. Miss Keeler and Al Jolson, Jr., 4, the boy they adopted from a Chicago nursery, were in seclusion at the Toluca Lake home of her parents.

Jolson, meanwhile, drifted around the 15-room encino show-place he built five years ago, and said he would stay there until his wife "made up her mind once and for all."

Jolson, born Asa Yoelson in Russia 53 years ago, was married twice before he met Miss Keeler. His second wife, Ethel Delmar Jolson, divorced him in Paris in 1926.

Broadway Dancer
Miss Keeler was 19, a Broadway dancer, when she married the man who had become world-famous as a "Mammy" singer on the stage and who had just achieved new success in the first talking picture, "The Jazz Singer."

After her marriage, she too appeared in numerous films. Most of her roles demanded only that she dance and look pretty, both of which she does exceedingly well.

The Jolson appeared in one film, "Go Into Your Dance," together.

Miss Keeler has been seen infrequently in pictures in recent years, devoting much of her time instead to golf. She is one of the best women golfers in the film colony.

Jolson, after four years of retirement, within the last year has appeared in several pictures, usually re-enacting the blackface minstrel roles which he made famous years ago. Currently he is working in "Swanee River," based on the life of Song-writer Stephen Collins Foster.

Jolson, a member of the Jewish faith, said that in discussion of the separation he offered his Catholic wife $400 a week for life and a settlement of $50,000 in the event she re-married, with a $100,000 cash trust fund for Al Jr.

Miss Keeler rejected the offer as insufficient, he added.

The singer said family troubles which he had not considered important enough to cause divorce brought about the separation.

Joint Meetings Are Held
By St. Remy C. E. Groups
On Tuesday night, October 24, the St. Remy Christian Endeavors held their Junior and Senior meetings.

Those presiding at the Senior meeting were as follows: Georgianna and Dorothy White, Paul Pekin, Walter Schmitz, Dorothy Eckert, Beatrice Ellsworth, Violet Schmitz, Laura Soper, Constance Blawis, Peter Helmich, Carson Emberson.

Among the guests at the meeting were officers of the county Christian Endeavor: Roberta Houghtaling, Natalie Phillips, Burton Streeter, Mr. Tubby. Other guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Haysom of Bloomington, Mrs. Ellsworth.

Choir practice was later held. Mrs. Parker supervised the Junior meeting.

UNION CENTER
Union Center, Oct. 26—Mr. and Mrs. Klehn, of Rosendale, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Schoonmaker.

Mrs. J. T. Harris and daughter Jane, and Mabel and J. Mahoney, of Belleville, N. J., called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fowler, Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a turkey supper in the chapel, Thursday evening, November 2.

Frank Wood, the rural mail carrier, is enjoying two weeks' vacation. Raphael Van Aken, of Port Ewen, is substituting.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuntz, of Ulster Park called on Mrs. A. Schnering, Monday afternoon.

Since 1927 the number of trucks involved in fatal accidents has decreased 29 per cent and the corresponding number of buses has decreased 41 per cent, according to the National Safety Council.

P-T-A School 6 Plans To Bring Pianist

Plans have been made for an early winter concert by Stanley Hummel, Albany concert pianist, prior to his recital at Town Hall, New York city. Mr. Hummel will come to Kingston under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6 which has arranged the musical evening. Mr. Hummel formerly attended School No. 6 and his former teachers and many friends are eagerly looking to his initial concert in the city of his boyhood.

Stanley Hummel began the study of piano with his mother, the late Mrs. Ford Hummel. Later, while a pupil of Edward Morris, director of the Morris-Hummel Conservatory, he received his first scholarship to the Julliard School of Music in New York where he studied with Joseph Lhevinne. For the last five years Mr. Hummel has been an associate instructor at the Julliard School and also at the Salzburg Academy where he taught concert repertoire.

The young artist has appeared in recitals since the age of seven. He has given concerts in New York and Europe and is now appearing with leading symphony orchestras.

At a luncheon meeting of the general ticket committee at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday, with Mrs. John Drewes, president of the P-T-A. of School 6 in charge, announcement was made that tickets are now on sale.

The price of the tickets has been kept at a moderate figure for adults and students, so that no one need feel he cannot afford to attend the recital, the committee stated.

The P-T-A. has spared no effort and undergone heavy expense to bring Stanley Hummel here for one evening's recital, to play the same program which he will give a select audience at New York's Town Hall in January.

The cooperation of the public is urged by the committee as it is only through the interest in such musical treats as evidenced by the attendance, that the P-T-A. can continue to give Kingston programs of this nature. The recital is part of the altruistic aim of the association to give the people of Kingston the type of musical art which is heard in large communities.

After one of his recent Town Hall recitals, Mr. Hummel was praised by the New York press for his technical skill and good style, which has gained in positiveness and warmth of expression since his first performance.

Rappleyea-Buckman

Miss Viola Buckman, daughter of Mr. Charles Buckman of 59 Hooker street, and Albert Rappleyea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Rappleyea of Third avenue, were united in marriage Friday, October 20, at the Church of the Holy Cross, by the Rev. William A. Grier. The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rappleyea, cousins of the groom. The bride wore moss green with matching accessories and a crown of Italian roses. Her attendant wore a wine gown with matching accessories. After a supper Mr. and Mrs. Rappleyea left on a short wedding trip. They are residing at the home of the bride's mother.

Honored at Shower

Miss Mary Liccardo of the Saugerties Road was feted at a surprise shower at the Lake Katrine Grange Hall recently. Miss Liccardo is to become the bride of John Lemaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lemaro of Brooklyn on Saturday. The hall was decorated in pink and white. Supper was served following the presentation of the gifts. Dancing was enjoyed with music furnished by Vincent Edwards orchestra. Approximately 200 friends and relatives of the bride-elect were present.

Service Club Plans Year's Activities

A Halloween party was held by the members of the Service Club of the Rondout Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Terwilliger on Broadway when an appropriate Halloween program was given.

The program for the year's activities of the club was also approved as submitted by the entertainment committee of which Mrs. Oscar Goodsell is chairman.

Mrs. Conrad J. Heiselman will be hostess at the November meeting which will be devoted to an evening of music. She will be assisted by Mrs. George Simpkins and Mrs. Ralph Cooper, while the opening devotional period will be in charge of Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh.

The December meeting will be the annual welfare meeting held in the chapel of the church when the devotions will be led by Mrs. C. J. Heiselman, and the hostesses will be Mrs. Oscar Goodsell, Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McCullough.

Mrs. H. L. Van Deusen will be hostess at the January meeting and will be assisted by Mrs. Harold Darling and Mrs. Oscar Goodsell. Mrs. George Simpkins will lead the devotional period and a book review will be given by Mrs. Charles Terwilliger.

The February meeting will be devoted to sewing and an evening of games with Miss Jessie Goodsell as hostess assisted by Miss M. Smith and Miss Janet Phil. Mrs. John B. Sterley will have charge of the devotional period.

The March meeting will be devoted to the presentation of a play and a white elephant party. Mrs. Charles Terwilliger will be hostess with Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Samuel Peyer assisting her. Mrs. Frank McCausland will have charge of the devotions and the evening will be devoted to craft and jewelry work.

Miss Ethel Skelton will be hostess at the annual meeting to be held in May and will be assisted by Mrs. Herman Gunter and Mrs. Frank McCausland. Mrs. Book-walter will give the book review and officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

The annual picnic of the club will be held in June on a date to be fixed later. The officers of the Service Club are: President, Mrs. Dorr E. Monroe; vice president, Mrs. John B. Sterley; secretary, Mrs. Warren Ingalsbe, and treasurer, Mrs. Harold Darling.

Paper on Fair's Art

Miss Florence Corbitt presented an interesting paper on "Art at the World's Fair" at the second meeting of the Atherton Club held Wednesday at her home on Lindsey avenue. Miss Corbitt told in detail of the exhibits of modern art and of old masters and read criticisms, illustrating her talk with many pictures. Preceding the reading of the paper, the hostess served tea assisted by Miss Emily Hoysradt, who poured. Beginning Tuesday week the club will meet on Tuesdays to accommodate those taking the New York University extension course. Next week the club will meet at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fessenden.

Business Girls' Club Party

Members of the Business Girls Club of the YWCA donned costumes last evening for the annual Halloween party and supper. The supper tables were also decked in festive decorations for the occasion. Following the supper two skits were presented. The first was "A Trip to the World's Fair," with the cast being the Misses Katherine Heavey, Dorothy Elston, Helen Anderson, Dorothy Dumond, Bertha Waterman, Margaret Schuetz and Dorothy DeWitt. The other skit was "Dr. Einstein Operates." Members of the club in this cast were the Misses Anna Tyler, Maud Curry, Helen Gronemeyer, Dorothy Davis, Stella Ketterson, Ruth Smith, Ruth Vandenberg and Ruth Bell. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing Halloween games. At the meeting next week Superintendent Arthur Laidlaw will be the guest speaker.

Keating-Kozlowski

Miss Lucy Kozlowski of 327 Abbot street and Michael J. Keating, mechanic in the police department, were united in marriage on Saturday by the Rev. Stanislaus J. Malinowski at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Delaware avenue. The groom was attended by his brother, Leo Keating, as best man, while Miss Anna Kozlowski, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keating left on a trip to New York city where they attended the World's Fair. Upon their return they will reside at 21 Pine street.

Celebrated 90th Birthday

Freeman Photo

James F. Osterhout of Franklin street had the rare privilege on Monday of this week of celebrating his 90th birthday. Mr. Osterhout, who is in the best of health, enjoyed a trip to the New York World's Fair this summer and after walking through the exhibits all day, was the least tired of his party. Mr. Osterhout also has the distinction of being the only living charter member of the local Y. M. C. A. which this year is celebrating its 73rd anniversary.

Former Resident Made Trustee of Holland Society

Rufus Cole Van Aken, of 34 Westminster road, Rockville Centre, L. I., formerly of this city, K. H. S. '17, has been elected a trustee of The Holland Society of New York.

This is a genealogical, historical society, organized in 1885 to perpetuate the memory of the early Dutch settlement of America, to foster and promote the principles of Dutch ancestry, and to provide for their descendants opportunities for social intercourse. Its membership is limited to 1,000 men and is composed of descendants in the direct male line from residents of the Dutch colonies in America before 1675.

Mr. Van Aken's male ancestors in America go back to 1652. The earliest trace of the name in Europe is of one John Van Aken who established in the fourth century the city of Aachen in the Netherlands or Low Countries. Later it was called by the French name of Aix-la-Chapelle; and now, as Aachen again, it is within the boundaries of Germany, near the Belgian border. This city is believed to have been the birthplace of the Emperor Charlemagne, and it owes its historic fame to his fondness for its hot sulphur springs, which led him to make it his favorite place of residence, where the mighty ruler of the Franks splashed and swam in the warm waters nearly 12 centuries ago.

The new trustee has been active in the affairs of the society and during the last two years has been instrumental in re-vitalizing its Burgher Guard, of which he is the captain.

Many prominent American citizens have been and are members of the society. President Franklin D. Roosevelt is a member, as was also the late Theodore Roosevelt. Members from Kingston include the Hon. Gilbert D. B. Hasbrouck, the Hon. Philip Elting, Roscoe V. Elsworth, also a trustee, John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., Myron S. Teller, Willard van Keuren, William C. DeWitt.

Married on Sunday

Marlborough, Oct. 25—A pretty fall wedding took place last Sunday in St. Mary's Church when Miss Rose Truncelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Truncelle, became the bride of Joseph Buttasi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Buttasi, of New York city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Hanley, pastor. Miss Josephine Truncelle was her sister's maid of honor and Sam Ferrante was best man. There were six bridesmaids: Josephine Collette, Rose Dragotta, Frances Pipla, Jennie Pipla, Grace Truncelle and Antoinette DeLorenzis. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with long train and a short veil caught to a crown of orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor wore a dress of rose embossed satin with blue trimmings. The bridesmaids were dressed in blue embossed satin with rose trimmings and carried old fashioned bouquets of pink roses and blue sweet peas. Following the ceremony a reception was held in St. Mary's Hall, after which Mr. and Mrs. Buttasi left for a wedding trip. On their return they will reside in the Bronx.

Mendelssohn Club Elects

The annual meeting of Mendelssohn Club, attended by 62 active, associate and prospective members and preceded by an excellent and hearty dinner served by the Governor Clinton Hotel last evening, brought about the re-election of Everett V. K. Schutt as president for the ensuing year. Also re-elected were Joseph Craig, secretary, and Willys Ryder, librarian. Officers elected for the first time were Lloyd LeFever, vice president, and William McBride, treasurer. Following the business meeting Harold Brigham took charge of the program and introduced "Miss Wilhelmina McBride," who, it was alleged, had requested an audition before the club in the hope of receiving an engagement as the club's soloist. Miss McBride sang with great emotion the always popular "Kiss Me Again." In general appearance this new artist bore a striking resemblance to the newly elected treasurer. In the absence of Reinold Werrenrath, the club's baritone, Vernon Miller, accompanied by Sam Scudder, sang two numbers, and the evening was brought to a fitting close by a brilliant rendition of several piano selections by the club's honorary member, Dr. Charles Gilbert Spross.

W. W. Fredenburgh Honored

In observance of the completion of his 50th year as organist and choir director of the First Reformed Church, W. Whiting Fredenburgh was presented last evening with a purse containing a substantial sum by the members of the consistory of the church. The presentation was made by Lucius Doly at the annual dinner served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

To Repeat D.A.R. Exhibit

In response to popular demand the exhibit of "Heirlooms of Yesterday and Tomorrow," held Wednesday evening by the Junior Group of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., will be open to the public in the afternoon tomorrow from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. Tea will be served and the same nominal fee charged.

Yesterday an appreciative group examined the exhibits and enjoyed tea served in the lovely dining room of the house by the members of the junior group. Mrs. Rose K. Witter of Wiltwyck Chapter and Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth, chairmen of the Junior Group, poured. In the evening a short entertainment was presented showing gowns from the Civil War period to the modern evening dress, modeled by members of the group.

The models first appeared as portraits in a large gilt frame and then came down the aisle of the room. Instrumental music was played during the evening. Following the entertainment coffee was served in the dining room. Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, regent of Wiltwyck Chapter, and Miss Albert Davis, vice chairman of the Junior Group, poured.

Missionary Society Meeting

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Reformed Church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the lecture room. The program will be in charge of Mrs. M. Z. Chidester.

Personal Notes

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personal Side of a House," "The Blue Book of Social Usage," etc.)

Tea and Tact

Dear Mrs. Post: What would you do in this case? My house is beautifully and rather fragly furnished. A few days ago, I asked several friends to come to tea. Everything was very nice and informal—maybe too informal—because one of the ladies sat there with her foot under her on the sofa. I was very much annoyed and wanted to ask her to take it down but didn't for fear of hurting her feelings. Do you know of any way I could have said something to her that would have been tactful and not embarrassing?

Answer: The only advice I can give you is to keep this particular woman from sitting in the corner of a very low deep sofa. If you proffer an ordinary chair or even an armchair, she won't have any inclination to sit on her foot. I am feeling rather guilty in answering this because sitting on my foot is one of my own particular habits. For your reassurance I can at least say truthfully that my own sofas are upholstered in very light and perishable colors and that I am as fearful of the mere thought of a smudge as any one could possibly be, but never a mark has my slipper even made, not even after several hours a day for years on end. But I willingly agree that sitting one's foot is a taboo of good manners outside of one's own home or an very informal occasions, and when sitting on a sofa seat a yard deep. On such a sofa, sitting one's foot is the only way one can sit!

Attracting the Waitress

Dear Mrs. Post: I was out with a friend the other evening who has always seemed to know the right thing to do. As it happened, I wanted to change my order, and to attract the attention of the waitress he called "Jenny, just a minute." Even if he knew the waitress' name, was it in good taste for him to use it this way?

Answer: If Jenny was a made-up name, then it was an improper thing to call her, but if he knew her and that really was her name, then it was certainly better to call her by name than to call out, "Oh, waitress!"

A Relative Asks To Give a Shower

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be out of order for the man's aunt to give a shower for her fiancé?

Answer: No, it will be entirely proper! (Were she the bride's aunt, good taste would be in question.) (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mayor Cites What Has Been Gained

have been built, miles of brand new, larger water mains have been laid, parks have been improved and playgrounds and recreation centers have been established, and now, for the first time in the city's history, police cars, with 2-way radio, are always within a moment's call from any home to give constant police protection to the home during all hours of the day and night.

These improvements and facilities have increased the safety and welfare of our people. One of the most valuable instruments of public safety is our fire department. What has been done here in recent years? New and better equipment has been installed. The volunteer fire department, a valuable and necessary auxiliary of the paid department, is now better trained because of improved training methods.

Street Lighting
Another element affecting the safety of the people is the lighting of the public streets. What has our administration done to improve street lighting? The record shows that we have increased street lighting in every section of the city. The street lighting has increased 67 per cent, or 236,940 candle power, during our administration. Ask the business people uptown, downtown and all along Broadway what they think of the new ornamental street lighting poles, the modern lighting fixtures and the larger and more powerful lights that make the business streets of Kingston the best lighted streets of any city in the state. Adequate street lighting insures the safety of careful pedestrians, protects citizens in the dead of night from hold-ups and helps business.

Many improvements were made in other departments of the city government, such as the credit of all those who participated in the work.

One of the most important departments of the city government is the health department. What has this department done during our administration the better to protect the health of all the people.

Health Work Here
It has done great work for the protection of children. For instance, in protecting children under five years of age from diphtheria, 2,332 children were given toxoid treatments, an increase of 23 per cent over 1933; 1,247 were vaccinated against smallpox. We have had only one case of diphtheria in Kingston since 1932 and that was an adult, and we have had no smallpox since 1931.

Only two cases of typhoid fever have originated in this city during the past six years.

Last year 280 children were given whooping cough serum.

In order to make clinic service available to more children, clinics have been established in various parts of the city to encourage mothers to bring in their children.

6,266 free treatments for social diseases have been given in city operated clinics during our administration.

One of the most important functions of the Board of Health and the city laboratory is to protect the safety and insure the purity of the city's milk supply.

In 1930, a serious epidemic of septic sore throat broke out in Kingston, which caused untold misery and expense and cost several lives. This epidemic was traced to the consumption of raw milk, which was then sold throughout the city. One of the first acts of our administration was to study the milk problem and how best to avoid another milk-caused epidemic in Kingston.

In 1934, a new milk code was adopted, requiring the pasteurization of all milk sold in the city, with the exception of certified milk, and Kingston has had no epidemics from milk since, although other communities permitting the sale of unpasteurized milk have suffered.

Farms, cattle, pasteurizing and bottling plants, are constantly inspected by agents of the Board of Health. All milk is tested as to cleanliness and purity in the city laboratory. In addition, milk is now subjected to what is known as a phosphatase test, which proves whether the milk is properly pasteurized.

Pools Made Safe
When I assumed office, I found that the wading pools used by the children in the parks were not purified and when we tested at the laboratory the water from the pools we found it loaded with bacteria. Upon my recommendation, the Board of Public Works purchased and installed chlorinators in all wading pools, thereby insuring the purity and safety of the water in the wading pools.

Several people had been killed or made ill by improper installation of gas heaters in bath rooms and other places. Our administration adopted an amendment to the plumbing code, requiring gas heaters to be connected to certain type flues, thereby eliminating all danger of death or injury to our fellow-citizens by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Due to the fact that 30 miles of new sewers have been built during our administration, many outside toilets, cesspools and old septic tanks have been eliminated, and as a result sanitary plumbing has been installed in many homes where previously there was none. This has greatly improved conveniences to the people and has been a valuable forward step in protecting the public health.

Laboratory Service
A Bureau of Child Hygiene has been established, with the assistance of the State Department of Health, and a doctor and nurses have been engaged for several years in teaching prenatal care and infant welfare procedures, in an attempt to decrease material and infant mortality.

During our administration the city laboratory was established as a state-aid laboratory, its director was appointed, its staff of expert technicians was organized, and a new building, with the latest and finest technical equipment, was built. Our laboratory department now consists of the city laboratory and the laboratories of both the Kingston and Benedictine hospitals. Our laboratory system is one of the finest and best in the state, and operates night and day to protect the lives and health of the residents of the city.

These are a few of the services which have been furnished for our citizens during our administration.

These services have been performed not only for one section, group or class of people. They have been performed for all of our people and all of our people have benefited.

If you approve of these services, and wish to have them continued, by our administration, please say so when you go to the polls on Election Day.

Alderman-at-Large Schwenk said:

In a speech made by the Democratic candidate for mayor last Thursday night, he is reported to have said, "It is claimed by the county authorities and asked that they deed the old armory to the city. The county authorities finally acknowledged my request and deeded, without cost, the old armory property to the city."

The Democratic candidate thus tries to take credit for obtaining the armory as a municipal auditorium.

His claim is either a misstatement of fact or he has a very poor memory. Let me consult the record for you and produce the real facts from the record. Here they are.

Quotes Newspaper Report
The first time the idea of getting the armory from the county and converting it into an auditorium was ever mentioned was at the Common Council meeting of July 5, 1932, when Mayor Heiselman was the president of the Common Council and I was the alderman from the Third Ward. I refer you to the Kingston Freeman of July 6, 1932, on Page 6. In reporting the proceedings of the Common Council the night before, this is what the Freeman said:

"President Heiselman suggested that the city might take over the old state armory on Broadway and use it for a civic center to hold conventions and other gatherings in."

"Alderman Zuca said he had been talking with one of the county officials and that it was said the county desired to get at least $60,000.00 for the property and that when it was turned back to the county, at the completion of the new armory, the county would have to sell it."

"That would not prevent the county from selling it to the city for a dollar," observed President Heiselman with a smile.

"That's the record of the first time anyone ever mentioned getting the old armory for $1.00, which was what actually did happen later, as I will show."

Now what is the next part of the record?

I have consulted the minute book of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, and find that on November 18, 1932, Commander Sam N. Mann appointed the following committee to further the cause of having the old armory transferred to the city for a nominal sum, to carry out the suggestion made by Mayor Heiselman in the July meeting of the council: Chairman, Conrad J. Heiselman, Dr. Frederick Snyder, Bernard A. Culliton and Peter Keresman.

The following letter, written on the stationery of the Kingston Post, American Legion, is on file with the board of supervisors and is part of the minutes of their meeting of December 8, 1932:

Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 3, 1932.
To the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county, Kingston, N. Y. Gentlemen:

I take pleasure in handing you herewith, for your consideration, a petition to your honorable body from a committee of this post, requesting that you authorize the transfer without cost, of the state armory in this city which will soon be abandoned by the state, to the city of Kingston.

Should favorable action result from this petition, upon such advice from you this committee will then be glad to lay a similar petition before the common council of the city.

Yours truly,
C. J. Heiselman,
Chairman, Armory Committee.

The above letter was accompanied by a petition, which is still part of the record of the board of supervisors. This petition cites the reason why it would be desirable to transfer the armory to the city for an auditorium, and the petition is signed by C. J. Heiselman, chairman, Dr. Frederick Snyder, Peter A. Keresman and Bernard A. Culliton.

After the American Legion had caused this letter to be sent to the board of supervisors, the matter was further discussed by the common council in May, 1933.

You will remember that the Democratic candidate for mayor, while mayor in 1933, was absent from duty because of illness from February 1 to September 1. He was in the hospital a great part of this time. He was in the hospital in April, 1933. It was in April 4, 1933, when Mayor Carey was in the hospital, that Mayor Heiselman, as president of the Common Council, appointed a committee of Aldermen to appear before the Board of Supervisors. Alderman McGrane of the 8th Ward was appointed by Heiselman as chairman of the committee. President Heiselman and the aldermanic committee, according to the record, appeared before the Board of Supervisors at their meeting of May 30, 1933. On that date Mayor Carey was in the hospital, and had been absent from duty since the previous February.

I have heretofore said, President Heiselman addressed the Board of Supervisors, requesting that the armory be transferred to the city. The matter of transfer was not a political issue. Both political parties were in agreement that it would be a good thing to do. Therefore, with the entire Board of Supervisors voting in favor, a resolution introduced by Supervisors Myers and Armater, authorized the transfer of the old armory from the county to the city for $1.00 was adopted on May 30, 1933, the same night President Heiselman and Chairman McGrane appeared before the board. The deed, transferring the property was accepted by the Common Council on July 11, 1933.

The record shows that Mayor Heiselman first mentioned the possibility of getting the armory and using it for an auditorium. It shows that the American Legion was the first organization to formally petition the Board of Supervisors. It shows that the Common Council was the first organization to appear personally before the Board of Supervisors. And in the forefront of each movement, as an active and enthusiastic member of each organization, was Conrad J. Heiselman.

This is the record, which is open to public inspection.

The credit for getting the old armory for the city cannot be given to any one person. It belongs to many. It belongs to all those who helped in any way. But by no stretch of the imagination can any of the credit be claimed by the Democratic candidate for mayor according to the facts revealed by the record.

And so another inaccuracy of his speech of last Thursday night is exposed. There are still others which will be exposed later in the campaign.

It has always been my feeling that during a political campaign, when the voters are expected to make an intelligent decision as to who shall be their chief executive, they are entitled to accurate statements of the facts.

So far as the record concerning the present municipal auditorium goes, it is apparent that the voters have not received such a statement of fact from the Democratic candidate for mayor.

Cashin Speaks
Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin in his address said:

The Democratic candidate for mayor, in a speech made in the Fifth ward last night, referred to a statement I made in the campaign earlier in the week. He said that he and I are friends of long standing. And then, as a special mark of our friendship, he proceeded to speak of me concerning the purchase of land on which the Heiselman administration has built the new municipal stadium. What he said was very amusing to me, particularly insofar as it concerned the title to the property involved. Contrary to what he attempted to insinuate, the fact of the matter is that everyone who had anything to do with the purchase of the stadium site knew about the right-of-way about which the Democratic candidate talked. The actual facts are matters of public record, open to public inspection. It is a matter of record in the deed, and the deed is recorded for public inspection in the Ulster county clerk's office, that the city of Kingston took title to the property with full knowledge that the deed was subject to a right-of-way, because that right-of-way is provided for in the deed, and the right-of-way permits ingress and egress through the stadium site to the quarry located in the rear of the stadium. The facts, so far as the purchase of the stadium site, are as follows:

The present site of the stadium was the only available site within the city which the authorities believed was large enough for the stadium and necessary parking space as well. It provides ample space for three major sports: Baseball, football and track. It provides, in addition, the generous parking space which is necessary nowadays to accommodate patrons of a modern stadium. The stadium site was purchased at a reasonable figure, and if the city had at-

Chrysler Formula Sought

Detroit, Oct. 26 (AP)—Conferees in the dispute at Chrysler Corporation tried again today to find a formula which would send more than 57,000 idle automobile workers back to their jobs. Two separate sets of negotiators remained on the job, but spokesmen for both the corporation and the CIO United Automobile Workers admitted after yesterday's sessions that the two sides were still far apart in their efforts to bring about a truce in a dispute over the pace of production.

Coroner John Kneller of Attica reported a traffic accident that left a deep dent in the front fender of his automobile. It was a "hit-and-run" case, Kneller said, adding "yes sir, the dog made a clean get-away."

Kingston High Eleven Plays at Poughkeepsie on Saturday

Bridge City Team One of Strongest In This Locality

Win for Kiamen Would Mean Another History-Making Varsity "Big Four" Is Ready

Rated by the experts as the strongest team in eastern New York, Coach Sam Kalloch's Poughkeepsie High School football machine will be out to continue its sensational record which started at the opening of the 1938 season. All of Kalloch's strategy and force will be focused on Kingston this Saturday when the little band of Maroon and White warriors travel to the Bridge City.

As for Kingston, Coach G. Warren Kias is merely hoping for one thing—and that is the same of his players will emerge from the battle in shape to meet Port Jervis on the following Saturday. With injuries breaking into his lineup more than triumphs, Kias is keeping his fingers crossed until about 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Before the 1939 season got under way last month the teams from Port Jervis and Middletown were given a chance to show something throughout the campaign. Everything passed smoothly until these teams met Poughkeepsie. The Kalloch Powerhouse smashed through these eleven in impressive style. As a result the coaches at Port and Middletown have been going along with numerous substitutions due to injuries received from the impact of the Poughkeepsie steamroller.

Of course Kingston has just about everything to gain and nothing to lose in this game except a few more players. Should the Kiamen team lead off the Kallochmen another history-making team would be in the limelight.

For the first time this year the Maroon and White gladiators came out of the Middletown clash last Saturday without any serious mishaps. This is a point in favor of them when they travel on Saturday. Coach Kias will undoubtedly shoot his "Big Four" backfield of Johnny Ennis, Jay DeWitt, Jimmy Ashdown and Captain Jack Fallon against the Poughkeepsie club in toto at the start in an effort to get the jump on the men of Kalloch. All of these ball-buffers played exceptional ball last week. Ennis and DeWitt charged and blocked with 100 per cent efficiency while Fallon and Ashdown took turns in pecking and running with outstanding results.

The probable turning point of this week's game—the line—will be the main feature during the workweek this week at the Athletic Field. Realizing that he must lead players who can stand the assault of the line plungers from the Poughkeepsie secondary. Players like Chris Berg, Ken Hopper, Bill Dunning, Bob Blossinger, Al Beck, Bud Lissauer, Frank Mazzucca and Fred Hoffbauer will have their work cut out from the start. If they can't deliver when the going gets tough, the outcome would be too easy for the local gladiators.

Kicking Ability Made Howie Kaye

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 26 (AP).—Howie (Two-plays) Kaye, Yale's place-kicking specialist, has a few words of advice for football managers.

"Beat a football long enough and you'll kick yourself right on to the varsity."

Light as college players go, the 160-pound Yale kick thought his graduation career was over when he broke an ankle in his freshman year. But he determined to stick close to the game. In order to do so, he avoided injury, he went out for a marginal job.

Last spring, between rushing water out to the athletes and attending to the odd jobs, Kaye, who had a few placements and did not so well as he was brought to the attention of Head Coach Ducky Pond. Ducky put him on the Varsity a few long, and Saturday, at Ann Arbor, he may get a chance to deliver a vital boot against Michigan.

Also in the Middleburg (Va.) minor is a delivered with his specialty in important spots. His field goal beat Columbia, 10-7, and his two extra-point conversions helped upset Army last Saturday, 20-15. After trying for the field goal or extra point, he stays in long enough to kick off, and that's where he wins this "two-plays" moniker.

At present Howie can't decide what's giving him the bigger "kick"—watching one of his placements soar between the uprights, or the service he's getting from Yale's football managers.

"You see all the games from a swell," he says, "every so often you get a swell close-up of what's going on and besides, you don't have to run any errands."

For a term from April 15 to October 31, a teacher in the town of Schoharie received $56. But that was in 1839, a document now in possession of Mrs. Mary Carpenter of Albany reveals. The teacher was Miss Frances E. Morey, an ancestor of Mrs. Carpenter.

Mapping The Football News

HERE ARE GRID WAR HOT SPOTS

Here's a war map for you—showing major points on the gridiron front. Shaded areas indicate conferences. Major independent teams are shown by squares.

New Lights for the Giants, Full Quota of Night Games

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Despite the long-standing objections of Manager Bill Terry, the New York Giants have decided to install a hang-up lighting system in the Polo Grounds and play a full quota of night games next summer, both at home and on the road.

The Giants thus become the last of the big league clubs to haul down their sunlit banner and succumb to the financial lure of the night. Up to now Terry stubbornly has refused to expose his athletes to the night air, but he evidently has been overruled at last. An official announcement will be made in about a week.

This will leave Yankee Stadium alone of the three local ball plants without a lighting system. Brooklyn made a mint of money with its night games at Ebbets Field the past season. The Yankees are willing to play a few night games away from home, but President Ed Barrow is dead set against installing lights—"at least for 1940."

Terry, who has said he never would play under lights, will have to shade his eyes and like it, a martyr to the desire of the stockholders to make money. He will remain field manager of the team, not yet having convinced his employers that he would be more valuable sitting at a desk directing the Giants' farm properties.

The decision of the Giants to light up their own big plant and to play night games abroad will be acclaimed by other National League Clubs. The Polo Grounds, sitting smack in the center of several million potential customers who like to go places at night, can confidently be expected to jam in several crowds of 50,000 or better for its nocturnal attractions.

Power Boat Group Meets Tonight

This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Kingston Power Boat Association at Fischer's Casino on Abel street. Every member is urged to attend and make final returns on dance tickets.

Taxes on passenger cars now amount to $60 or $70 in many states. Since the average value of all passenger cars is only about $200, the tax burden in those states is equal to approximately one-third of the value of the vehicles.

In Court--But, Not Villains

Here's the lineup the news cameraman found in the city court room this week—but the gang wasn't the result of a police roundup. These eight "desperados" happened to be holding their final City Baseball League meeting. They are, from left to right, Johnny Weiss, manager of the Grunewalds; Jack Dawkins, boss of the Independents; George "Smiler" Zadany, who piloted the Jones Dairy club to the 1939 championship; and Joe Kelly, president of the loop; rear, left to right, Ed Banks, treasurer of the league; Gus Strigewald, manager of the Wiltschys; Ed Coughlin, vice-president; and James Geochan, secretary of the city league.

Season's Prize Nickname List

New York, Oct. 26 (AP)—Maybe they have a livelier sense of humor or a more vivid imagination, but the writers below the Mason-Dixon line have come up with the season's prize crop of football nicknames.

It really isn't a contest. When someone thought of calling Duke's George McAfee the "iron-toned irritator" he came close to a seasonal high.

But there are others almost as good, such as: Charles (Smiling Kate) Anastasio, Louisiana State; George (Dog) Carter, Granville (Buttermilk) Harrison and Jack (Phantom) Nix, all of Mississippi State; Red (Paddlefoot) Hiestand and Ray (Bird Dog) Andrus of Vanderbilt; George (Bad News) Caffego and Leonard (Milkman) Coffman of Tennessee; J. B. (Pinhead) Henson, South Carolina, and Allan (Sweet Pea) Johnson, Duke.

And what else could they call "Zazu"? The importance of extreme care in selecting a farm cannot be overemphasized. A mistake is likely to be serious. It results commonly in years of wasted effort and the loss of hard-earned savings.

This is what Mac Phail said he intended to have anyway at the annual meetings at Cincinnati in December, when he will propose that the first place clubs play each other, as now, and the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth place teams also meet. "Inter-league competition should not be confined to two clubs. A series of inter-league games in which all clubs participate would fairly determine the question of supremacy each season," argued Mac Phail.

The first reaction of a lot of persons was probably voiced most succinctly by Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, who snapped: "Just say for me that Mac Phail is nuts. Somebody proposed this a long time ago and it was just as silly then as it is now."

Wrestling Last Night

(By The Associated Press) Boston — Marvin Westenberg, 220, Tacoma, Wash., defeated Danno O'Mahoney, 228, Ireland, two falls out of three.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Bob Weatherly, 303, Philadelphia, threw Emil Dusek, Omaha, Neb., 22:10.

Kadis Does Well

Lexington, Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—Young Bert Kadis, Washington and Lee sophomore halfback, had a secure place today in the array of backs who will attack Virginia Tech's Cobblers at Lynchburg Saturday. Kadis, who hails from Mount Vernon, N. Y., has developed into one of the most promising backs on the squad.

R. C. Pitts of Arkansas but "Zazu"?

WINNIE RUTH JUDD ESCAPES

Tommy's Romantic Notion Is Blasted

New Rochelle, N. Y., Oct. 26 (AP).—The romantic notion which prompted Tommy Manville to spend $3,000 to bring Elinor Troy from Hollywood to New York in a chartered plane which was loaded with orchids and champagne, today became love's labor lost.

The asbestos heir said after a 5-day tour of night clubs with the eye-filling show girl that they had parted company.

"We came up here to the country last night and she found 28 rooms too small for her," Tommy moaned.

"Besides that she didn't like the presence of Yvonne Arden (young radio singer)."

"She told me 'you're too blamed busy with your business to get married,' so I called a cab for her."

Tommy's Romantic Notion Is Blasted

Tommy said all this happened while he was in the midst of moving his personal belongings from his chateau here into a garage apartment on the grounds of his luxurious estate.

"She didn't like the garage apartment, either," he explained.

"In addition," he said, "she couldn't cook. She didn't even know when to turn off the gas while boiling water."

Tommy said he was not looking for a cook, but he just didn't like the idea of a gal who couldn't wrestle with the pots and pans.

Miss Arden, he asserted, came along just for the fun of it.

The twice-married Miss Troy, a native of Washington, D. C., said she would issue a statement later.

Her trip alone in a 28-passenger plane last Friday and Saturday was the result of Tommy's telephoned proposal of marriage, she said.

Tommy first denied wedding plans, then admitted them, and was showered with the congratulations of cafe society as they flitted from one night club to another.

Mayor Cites What Has Been Gained

tempted to buy the entire tract of land, including the quarry behind the stadium, it would have had to pay thousands of dollars more than it actually did, because the acquisition of this additional land was the only way in which provision of the right-of-way could have been eliminated from the dead. Instead of wasting thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money for such a purpose, the city rightfully purchased for a reasonable sum only such land as was actually necessary for the stadium, and immediately started negotiations for the purchase of another entrance to the quarry property at a nominal cost. In these negotiations the city has been eminently successful. Of course, the Democratic candidate apparently did not take the time or trouble to find out this fact, because the reckless manner in which he speaks clearly indicates that he does not yet know that the city already has in its possession an option to provide a new roadway into the quarry property, not for the thousands of dollars which the Democratic candidate claimed we would have to pay, but for the nominal sum of only $500.00, which we actually will pay. This, as you will see, is thousands of dollars less than the city would have paid if it had purchased the entire quarry property, instead of only a roadway.

"The title to the stadium is clear. The statements made by me are the true facts."

The record substantiates those facts and the record is open for public inspection.

In line with what the Democratic candidate for mayor has so far said concerning the issues of this campaign, let me point out to you a part of a political speech he made last week. In that speech he praised the administration of the government of Ulster county by the Republican party. This seems strange coming from the Democratic candidate for the highest office in the city of Kingston. He, running on the Democratic ticket, practically tells you to elect Republican supervisors. Why? Because he said in his speech that the pay-as-you-go policy adopted and followed by the Republican county government, under the leadership of Philip Elting, is the right and proper policy. Therefore, it necessarily follows that the voters of this city should elect Republican supervisors in each and every one of the 13 wards of the city, as recommended by the Democratic candidate for mayor.

He said that he and I are friends of long standing. He also said that he approves of the type of government given to the citizens of Ulster county of the Republican board of supervisors. He intimates that he respects and is a friend of Philip Elting.

Talking about friends, I wonder whether he is a friend of the 13 Democratic candidates for supervisor in the city of Kingston!

Clair's Auto Wrecks, Injures Physician

Daniel V. O'Leary, 59, Albany health commissioner, was injured last evening on Delaware near his home when his car driven, according to police, by Mrs. Ruth Clair of Kingston. She said that Dr. O'Leary stepped in her car from between two cars.

Clair told police she applied brakes but was unable to stop because of the wet pavement. She was not detained after her car had been tested and found in good order.

Albany Hospital Dr. O'Leary said he was suffering from a fracture of the right hand and bruises. The time Dr. O'Leary was taken to his home, 315 Delaware avenue, from Albany Hospital by Nathan man, a passing motorist, he was treated by Dr. Wil-

Ellenville Man Loses His Damage Case Against Son

Adolph A. Albert, feed and grain dealer of Ellenville, failed to recover damages from his son, Daniel G. Albert of Rockville Center, L. I., in an action in negligence brought in Supreme Court. The elder Albert sought $1,000 for injuries which he suffered in an accident in Ellenville on February 15, 1939 when he was struck by the car of his son from which he had alighted.

The plaintiff asked for damages on the grounds that he had been struck and injured when thrown to the ground as he walked in front of the car. He claimed that there was negligence on the part of defendant.

In answer the defendant claimed that he was not responsible for the accident but that the car which was standing on the street slipped down in an icy rut and moved forward a matter of inches, striking the elderly man. He said that he was in no way responsible for the act which caused the car to roll forward.

Manuel Dittenheimer was attorney of record for plaintiff and the case was tried by Herman Cohen. Andrew J. Cook appeared for the defendant.

Our Growing Population

Rigney Requests Adjournment; Held In Local Accident

James Rigney, 30, of 7 Valley street, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Officer Harnen, who charged him with pulling out from the curb on Broadway without signalling his intention. As a result there was collision between one of the police radio cars and the Rigney machine.

This morning Mr. Rigney was arraigned before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court, at which time he asked for an adjournment in order to consult with his attorney. The adjournment was granted.

At the time of the collision the radio car manned by Officers Harnen and Sammons, was responding to a call for a hit and run driver who crashed into the car driven by Francis A. Engel of Plochman Lane, Woodstock, and continued on without stopping. Mr. Engel furnished the police with the license number of the offending car.

Ulster Officials Mentioned
In History of Murder Case

Several Ulster county officials, including Sheriff Abram Molyneux, District Attorney Cleon B. Murray and Police Chief Porter of Ellenville are mentioned prominently in the current issue of a detective story magazine.

The magazine article is based upon facts which brought to official light the murder of April 8, 1937, when Isadore Handelman and his wife, were burned to death in their home at Ellenville. The aged couple was murdered by Charles James Brown, negro, who was arrested several days after the crime. The magazine story stresses certain suspicious angles of the case which turned it from one of death by accidental burning to one of murder.

fatal shooting of his sweetheart, which Police Chief Frank Joret said appeared "on the surface" to be accidental.

Joan Oberle, 19, pretty Englewood High School graduate, died late yesterday on the way to Englewood Hospital.

Detective Captain Alexander Flannery quoted Duncan as saying the girl was cleaning his pistol in the girl's room when it accidentally discharged and a bullet entered Miss Oberle's neck.

Captain Flannery declared early this morning that police were awaiting recovery by Mrs. George Oberle, the girl's mother, from the shock at hearing of her daughter's death. He said they wished to question her before booking Duncan.

Duncan, a West New York resident, was quoted by Flannery as saying he completed cleaning his .22 calibre target pistol and then pointed it at the girl. He insisted it went off accidentally, said Flannery.

Negligence Case Continues
Before Judge Schirich

A negligence action growing out of an accident in the warehouse of the American Agricultural Chemical Co. in Poughkeepsie was taken up in Supreme Court before Justice Schirich yesterday afternoon. It was continued today.

Peter Donovan of Marlborough brings an action against the company to recover for injuries which he suffered when he claims a tier of fertilizer bags fell upon him while he was in the plant purchasing fertilizers.

The defendant denies any negligence. George Rusk of Rusk & Rusk appears for the plaintiff and Chauncey L. Grant and John M. Cashin appear for the defendant.

Wright immediately voiced a strike threat if distributor checks, due yesterday, were not based on the $2.15 price. The majority of the independents, he added last night, met the agreement but the "big distributors did not and thus must be cut down to their size."

Slow, Long Stoppage

"It will be a slow, long stoppage," the union chairman asserted. "The immediate effect will be the loss of much of Sheffield's milk supply but next April, when Dairymen's League contracts expire, the league will lose many producers from its rolls."

Wright said dairymen in Chenango, St. Lawrence, Montgomery, Madison, Oneida, Broome, Franklin, Clinton, Washington and Delaware counties would begin "immediately" to divert milk from Sheffield and league plants.

He estimated both distributors would lose a total of 300 producers in Chenango, that Sheffield would lose 200 producers in St. Lawrence and that the same concern's Del-were county supply would be cut "one-third."

In answering claims of Sheffield and the Dairymen's League that their contributions to the federal-state equalization fund, from which all producers are paid, were sufficient to exceed $2.15, Wright remarked:

"They may have paid more than $2.15 into the pool but they dipped it right back out again in excessive service payments."

The union leader said that in counties where the two concerns received "little or no milk" no diversion program would be attempted.

"We are after the big, chiseling distributor, only," he declared.

Imitation Snakes

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 26 (AP)—Superintendent Eldridge Smith now believes he has finally found the way to drive those pigeons from the county court house. He has lined the ledges and window sills with imitation snakes.
